ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 7, 1884. McKINNEY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1933.— —SECTION ONE FIFTIETH YEAR

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT PROCLAIMS BANK HOLIDAY

MORE THAN INCH AND HALF RAINFALL PAST WEEK-END

This locality was treated to its econd successive week-end of inlement weather when rain, mounting to 1.53 inches, fell in his city and vicinity Saturday ight and Sunday, according to E. Pearl Skelton, local government weather observer. Last week-end a total rainfall of 1.40 inches was recorded here.

Because of several big rains in he past few days, the ground was already thoroughly soaked nd most of the water remained on top of the ground. Due to this fact, the creeks surrounding McKinney—East Fork and Wilson—oon rose bank-full and later overflowed bottom lands.

Because of the precipitation, which kept them out of the fields, together with the fact that it was First Monday, farmers in large numbers came to town to spend he day. Overflowed creeks, east of the city, however, kept many from reaching the county seat.

Three of the six rural free delivery carriers did not leave the postoffice Monday morning because they were unable to cross creeks surrounding McKinney. They were J. E. B. Gambrell, route 3, through Altoga; Eric Nelson, route 5, through Culleoka and Weedon Franklin, route 4, out through Chambersville and points in that section north.

Although the sun shone out brightly for a short while early Monday, the clouds soon formed again with the weather growing rapidly colder.

Sunday's threatening weather also witnessed a descent of the mercury, which fell to 36 degrees, only 4 degrees above freezing, at 7 a. m. Monday. Other temperature readings since Saturday include:

64 degrees at 6:30 p. m. Saturday.
54 degrees at 7 a. m. Sunday.
54 degrees at 11:30 a. m. Sunday.
40 degrees at 6:30 p. m. Sunday.
36 degrees at 7 a. m. Monday.
44 degrees at 11:30 a. m. Monday.

Reports reaching McKinney stated that the rain was general in all parts of the county over the week-end.

MASTER JOE W. M'CULLOUGH JR. FIVE YEARS OLD

The editors of this paper received their annual visit Wednesday from their manly little friend, Joe W. McCullough Jr., son of Representative Joe W. McCullough of his county in the present state legislature.

This fine looking, intelligent little fellow was born in McKinney, March 1, 1928. He has visited us on each of his birthdays from his first one. Today, he sang for us "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," "Love Lifted Me," and another song or two. He is unusually gifted for so small a child both in singing and public speaking.

Recently, while on a visit to his father, he made a speech and sang from the speaker's desk of the House of Representatives, greatly to the delight of the lawmakers. The body proceeded, after hearing the little fellow, to elect him as mascot of the Texas House of Representatives of the Forty-Third legislature.

Little Joe W. was accompanied to our office by his mother. He told us that she had baked him a fine birthday cake and that he was going to blow out the five candles on it and then eat it for dinner.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. W. A. Jackson is some better after a continued illness.

Martin Moses, state manager for the Acme Life Insurance company of Austin is spending a day or two with his family in this city.

Chas. M. Cooper, manager and co-owner of the J. C. Penney company store, in this city, has returned home from Edgerton, Wyoming, where he was called by the serious illness of his father. He reports that his father is some better.

The Wylie Open Forum will hold its next meeting at the Wylie school auditorium Friday night, March 10, at 8 o'clock. The debating question will be: "Resolved, That the Dean Law Should be Repealed in the State of Texas." The affirmative will be represented by [illegible] Galloway and W. [illegible]

NEW CABINET CONFIRMED IN RECORD TIME

Washington, March 6.—Breaking precedent, the senate confirmed the Roosevelt cabinet within two hours after the new president took office.

The action was taken after Senator Robinson (Dem.) of Arkansas, majority leader, noted the cabinet would not be confirmed until Tuesday unless immediate action was taken, as the senate is to meet Monday only for the state funeral of Sen. Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, who would have been the new attorney general.

The new cabinet follows:

Cordell Hull of Tennessee, secretary of state.

William H. Woodin of New York, secretary of the treasury.

George H. Dern of Utah, secretary of War.

Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, attorney general.

James A. Farley of New York, postmaster general.

Harold L. Ickes of Illinois, secretary of the interior.

Miss Frances Perkins of New York, secretary of labor.

Associate Justice Benjamin Cardozo of the United States Supreme court administered the oath tonight.

Each member took the oath separately in accordance with his rank, beginning with Cordell Hull as secretary of state.

The ceremony took place in the library of the White House on the second floor and as President Roosevelt signed the various commissions Mrs. Roosevelt and their friends looked on.

M'KINNEY S. M. U. STUDENTS ON HONOR ROLL

"The Mustang," official school paper of the Southern Methodist university in its issue the other day, says that there are two foreign countries represented on the honor roll of S. M. U.—Japan and Mexico. Eleven other states are represented, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Tennessee. Of the thirty-nine Texas cities represented on the honor roll with the exception of Dallas, McKinney led the list with four representatives, while Corpus Christi and San Antonio had three each.

Of the thirty-nine recipients of high school scholarship for this semester twenty-eight men and women are on the honor roll.

When it is considered that out of a student body of more than 1,500, only thirty-nine on the honor roll and four of them from McKinney, it speaks volumes for the McKinney public school system, which gave them their elementary educational foundation.

RECREATIONAL ASSN. MEETING HERE MARCH 11

The March meeting of the county recreational association will be held in the Crouch building on Saturday, March 11, beginning at 2 p. m.

Miss Gladys Berry of Melissa and Miss Eva Bryan of Lebanon, both county leaders, will have charge of the meeting. These leaders have received special training from R. E. Jackson, national recreational leader.

All 4-H club boys and sponsors, teachers, home demonstration women and others interested in this type of work are invited to attend the meeting next Saturday.

Joy Hope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hope, and a student in the L. A. Scott Junior High, has been kept at home for several days on account of a persistent attack of a very bad cold or the flu.

Tom A. Hughston, wife and daughter, Miss Anna Grace, of Dallas, spent Sunday in McKinney visiting their son and brother, Tom M. Hughston, wife and little baby. They were accompanied to McKinney by [illegible]

DEATH OF MRS. M. A. PORTER IN NORTH COLLIN

Mrs. M. A. Porter, 88 years, 9 months and 15 days of age, died at the home of her son, north of Melissa, shortly before noon Sunday, March 5. The deceased, whose maiden name was Miss Madora Ferrell, was born in Desota county, Missouri, May 20, 1844. Her husband died in Saden, Missouri, in 1894.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, March 7 at 1 o'clock at the Melissa Baptist church, conducted by Rev. R. L. Bonner, Baptist minister of that place, and by Rev. Thos. L. Sterck, Methodist minister of Melissa. Interment followed in the Melissa cemetery under direction of the Isaac Crouch Funeral home of this city.

JUNIOR C. OF C. MEMBERS HOLD BUSY MEETING

McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce members held another well-attended and interesting meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday night. Pres. W. P. Abernathy presided and called for reports of the recent regional Jaycee conference of three states in Dallas last week-end. Marion O. Bozeman, past president, and representative of the local organization on the state board, made a report, as did President Abernathy.

Scott Abernathy, Carl McDonald, Wilkins Comegys and other members of the committee that arranged the recent O. P. C.-Textile Comet cage game, played for charity, reported on that contest, which drew the largest crowd that has witnessed a basket ball game here this season.

Earl Walker, well-known hardware and furniture dealer, and Wilkins Comegys, manager of the McKinney Compress & Warehouse company, were members describing their businesses, this being a part of each semi-monthly meeting of the Jaycees.

The entertainment committee for the next meeting, which will be held Tuesday night, March 14, will be Wilkins Comegys, Scott Abernathy and Homer W. Wilson.

R. G. McCain, Jr., reported on the committee, working with Fire Chief J. S. McKinney and volunteer firemen in assisting with traffic regulations whenever the siren sounds. Chief McKinney calls attention to the city ordinance against closely following after the fire trucks to the scenes of fires and expresses their gratefulness to the young business men for their interest in this matter.

Elton Riggs reported on the committee to mark streets, declaring that as soon as stencils arrive, the work will begin. Each street and block number will be stenciled at each corner of all city streets.

The McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce, which in its brief organization has built up a wide reputation for being able to successfully "put over" whatever the organization sponsors, will co-operate with and sponsor a "go to church" movement on Sunday, March 26. Every effort will be brought to bear on McKinneyites to attend church on that Sunday, and it is the purpose or object of the Jaycees to fill every McKinney church on that date.

ATTEND OBSEQUIES OF COUSIN AT COMMERCE SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McAlexander went to Cooper Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. McAlexander's cousin, Fred Cooper, who died Saturday at his late home in San Angelo. Messrs' Cooper and McAlexander had been very closely associated since early childhood.

The deceased will be remembered by McKinney friends, having on several occasions visited in the McAlexander home here.

Miss Ozella Pope of Dallas spent Sunday here as a guest of her mother, Mrs. H. C. Pope.

Ralph Carter and Mozelle Bridges of Frisco had a narrow escape from serious injuries, and probably death, when the car driven by the former ran into two trucks parked on the highway. The boys were en route to McKinney. The car was badly damaged.

W. T. Doggett was re-elected for another term of two years as superintendent of the Denton public schools by the board of trustees. Mr. Doggett's wife was [illegible]

Text of Address Delivered By Pres. Roosevelt

Following is the text of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt's inaugural address delivered Saturday afternoon in Washington:

Text of Address.

"I am certain that my fellow Americans expect that on my induction into the presidency I will address them with a candor and a decision which the present situation of our nation impels. This is pre-eminently the time to speak the truth, the whole truth, frankly and boldly. Nor need we shrink from honestly facing conditions in our country today. This great nation will endure as it has endured, will revive and will prosper. So first of all let me assert my firm belief that the only thing we have to fear is fear itself nameless, unreasoning, unjustified terror which paralyzes needed efforts to convert retreat into advance. In every dark hour of our national life a leadership of frankness and vigor has met with that understanding and support of the people themselves which his essential to victory. I am convinced that you will again give that support to leadership in these critical days.

"In such a spirit on my part and on yours we face our common difficulties. They concern, thank God, only material things. Values have shrunken to fantastic levels; taxes have risen; our ability to pay has fallen; government of all kinds is faced by serious curtailment of income; the means of exchange are frozen in the currents of trade; the withered leaves of industrial enterprise lie on every side; farmers find no markets for their produce; the savings of many years in thousands of families are gone.

On Unemployment.

"More important, a host of unemployed citizens face the grim problem of existence, and an equally great number toil with little return. Only a foolish optimist can deny the dark realities of the moment.

"Yet our distress comes from no failure of substance. We are stricken by no plague of locusts. Compared with the perils which our forefathers conquered because they believed and were not afraid, we have still much to be thankful for. Nature still offers her bounty and human efforts have multiplied it. Plenty is at our doorstep, but a generous use of it languishes in the very sight of the supply. Primarily, this is because the rulers of the exchange of mankind's goods have failed through their own stubbornness and their own incompetence, have admitted their failure and abdicated. Practices of the unscrupulous money changers stand indicted in the court of public opinion, rejected by the hearts and minds of men.

"True, they have tried, but their efforts have been cast in the pattern of an outworn tradition. Faced by failure or credit they have proposed only the lending of more money. Stripped of the lure of profit by which to induce our people to follow their false leadership they have resorted to exhortations, pleading tearfully for restored confidence. They know only the rules of a generation of self-seekers. They have no vision, and when there is no vision the people perish.

Money Changers Fled.

"The money changers have fled from their high seats in the temple of our civilization. We may now restore that temple to the ancient truths. The measure of the restoration lies in the extent to which we apply social values more noble than mere monetary profit.

"Happiness lies not in the mere

RAINEY TO SUCCEED AS SPEAKER

A rugged, white-haired Middle Westerner, Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, was chosen by the Democrats of the next house Thursday night to hold the speaker's gavel in the new congress to succeed Speaker Garner.

In caucus the party members nominated him for the post, action equivalent to election, elevating him from his present position of Democratic floor leader. To the latter position Representative Byrns of Tennessee was elected by a margin of eleven votes. He received 152 votes to 141 for Bankhead of Alabama. Rainey won with 166 votes, fifteen more than a majority of the 301 present. Representative McDuffie of Alabama, the party whip, was second with 112 votes, Rankin of Mississippi received twenty, Bankhead of Alabama one and Jones of Texas two.

Rainey's nomination was brought about when Byrns and Crosser of Ohio withdrew from the race, and Cullen of New York threw the full weight of his big Tammany delegation to the Illinois veteran.

Jack E. Leonard of Muskogee, Okla., spent the wee-end with his wife in this city.

Tom Milstead and son, Bradford, of Shawnee, Okla., are visiting relatives and friends in McKinney.

Ben Neilson and wife of Fort Worth spent the week-end at the home of his brother, City Attorney Horace H. Neilson, wife and children in this city.

Mrs. Wallace Hughston has gone to Waelder, Texas, to spend a fe wdays visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. Foy Thomas, wife and fine little son.

Mrs. Doyle Wilson and children, Betty Jo and Jim Bob, of Albany, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hitchcock, in this city.

Miss Ruth Timmons, daughter of [illegible]

SUDDEN PASSING MRS. CORA LEE WOLFE AT ANNA

Mrs. Cora Lee Wolfe, wife of Clyde Wolfe, died suddenly at 12:50 o'clock Saturday morning, March 4, at her home in Anna. She was a native of West Virginia, in which state she was born March 24, 1889. She was a daughter of Taylor and Elizabeth Oneal. She had resided in this state for the past twenty years, eighteen of which were spent in this county.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, March 4, at the Anna Baptist church, of which she was a member, conducted by Rev. R. L. Bonner. Interment followed in the Elm Grove cemetery, at Westminster, under direction of the Isaac Crouch Funeral home of this city.

Surivving are her husband, Clyde Wolfe and four children, Ona Mae, Jimmie Lee, Mary Lou and Pearl, and her mother, Mrs. Eliza Oneal. She was preceded to the grave by her father and two brothers.

Attend Beauty Show, School In Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warden, owners and proprietors of the Basement Beauty and Barber shop, accompanied by Misses Dorothy Hardin, Toogie Pullen and Charline Bridgefarmer attended the three-day beauty show and school held at the Baker hotel Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This is one of the largest, if not the largest, beauty shows in the entire southwest, and hundreds of beauty operators from a wide territory.

Expert operators of this and other states were present, the demonstrations going on all three days. The school was held under the auspices of the Wyschel beauty supply house of Dallas. A dance was staged each night at the conclusion of the demonstration with a stage show and dance Saturday, the final night.

MANY ATTENDED CALDWELL FUNERAL IN M'KINNEY

DECEASED WIFE PROMINENT PHYSICIAN; ACTIVE CHURCH WORKER

An exceptionally large number of friends attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Dr. Jas. A. Caldwell at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, held in the First Methodist church. The pulpit, chancel and choir loft were all banked in a profusion of beautiful flowers, floral offerings having come from friends all over the city, county and state.

Her pastor, Dr. Claude M. Simpson, was in charge of the service, assisted by the presiding elder of the McKinney district, Dr. H. G. Ryan; also by Rev. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the South Wilcox Street Methodist church, and by Dr. J. A. Old of Terrell, former pastor for four years of the deceased at McKinney, and an intimate friend of the family. He and Dr. Simpson paid splendid tributes to the life of the departed, who was for sixty years a devout member of the Methodist church.

Mrs. George M. Wilson, pipe organist, was in charge of the large regular church choir giving the music. A special musical number was the male quartet singing by W. Hammond Moore, Byron Hope, R. J. Walton and B. A. Marcom.

Mrs. Caldwell died at 12:40 Friday afternoon at the age of 71. She was the wife of Dr. Jas. A. Caldwell, prominent McKinney physician and specialist for nearly forty years.

Her remains were laid to rest in Pecan Grove cemetery under the direction of the Isaac Crouch Funeral home. A large outpouring of sympathizing friends from her home city and county and many out-of-town friends also came to pay their last respects.

Among those from out-of-town attending were:

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rogers, Mrs. Edwin B. Doggett, Mr. and Mrs. Tom A. Hughston, Mrs. P. C. Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Newman, Mrs Emerson Jordon, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Mouzon, Mr. and Mrs. T. Ben Warden and son, Ben Jr.; Miss Emy Stroud, Paul Young, Jack P. Burrus and Mrs. J. Perry Burrus, all from Dallas.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Maupin, Rowlett, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Fant, Arthur Field Heard, all of Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hight, Sherman.

Dr. J. A. Old, Terrell.

M. V. Howell, Claud Howell and Paul Bateman, all of Celina.

Mrs. John S. Bristol, Plainview.

Miss Eva Hughston, Plano.

M'KINNEY MAN ENJOYED TRIP SOUTH TEXAS

Rev. M. F. Wheeler is at home from a two weeks' very enjoyable trip to the Rio Grande valley. He accompanied his son, Amber Wheeler, of Dallas, and wife in their auto, Amber Wheeler being a traveling man and on one of his regular trade trips. He greatly enjoyed having his father as his guest on the trip. From Dallas, they went to Waco, Austin, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Harlingen, Brownsville and visited several towns up the Rio Grande river. They crossed three international bridges on the trip, visiting Old Mexico at that many points, one of them being at Matamoras.

Rev. Mr. Wheeler says that he saw some mighty pretty, interesting country while on the trip. Mr. Wheeler tells us that he was in Brownsville at the time J. P. Aycock, prominent Farmersville business man, was killed in an automobile wreck near there.

Mrs. Floyd Nelson and sweet little daughter, May Ruth, of Dallas, were guests of her parents, Senator and Mrs. H. A. Finch, Sr., Friday.

R. L. Gallagher of Wylie, who had the misfortune to fall on the ice during the cold spell, is still confined at home with a back injury, sustained then.

George A. Herndon, native of Collin county anda s on of Mr. and Mrs. George Herndon, early settler of this county, died in a sanitarium at Wichita Falls. Funeral services were conducted at Rowlett church by Rev. Silliman, with burial in Rowlett ceme-

RESUMPTION SET FOR FRIDAY; TO EASE STRAIN ON NATION'S FINANCES

Embargo On Gold; Clearing House Certificates Authorized For Use In Interim; Wartime Power Used.

Washington, March 6.—Immediate steps to lighten hardship caused by the nation-wide bank shutdown was promised today, Secretary Woodin of the treasury asserting that banks would be reopened if necessary to permit payment of payrolls.

He explained that where possible the payrolls would be met with clearing house certificates or scrip issued by the local banks, but where no such exchange means was available he would authorize the issuance of cash to meet the emergency.

Woodin and his aides, the leaders of congress and President Roosevelt himself were working hard at plans for action at the earliest possible moment.

Washington, March 6.—A modified bank holiday through Thursday was ordered Sunday night by President Roosevelt in a proclamation interpreted by some financial authorities as a temporary suspension of the gold standard.

Under the terms of the proclamation, calling for the conservation of gold stocks, it was assumed that redemption of currency in gold by the treasury will be suspended during the holiday.

The proclamation also placed an immediate embargo on all exports of gold and currency and provided for the issuance of clearing house certificates to keep business functioning while the banks are closed.

A bank desiring to remain open could do so if the secretary of the treasury grants it permission. Application for such permission would be made through the clearing house under which it operates. New accounts could be accepted on a 100 per cent withdrawal basis. The holiday could be extended.

May Issue Certificates.

The clearing house certificates would be based upon bank deposits. They would furnish a scrip money as a medium of exchange for the period of the bank holiday. They would be issued by the clearing houses in the various federal reserve districts and would not necessarily be uniform for the whole country.

The gold and currency embargo was proclaimed under the provisions of the war-time trading with the enemy act which empowers the secretary of the treasury with the regulation of such exports.

Running until Thursday, the bank holiday would continue until the day the new congress convenes in special session to enact a banking relief program which Mr. Roosevelt and his advisers are already formulating.

Over in the treasury Sunday night, William H. Woodin, the new secretary; Ogden L. Mills, the retired secretary, and officers of the federal reserve board plunged immediately to the task of putting the machinery in order to give the nation a medium of exchange under terms of the proclamation.

Cabinet Is Consulted.

Mr. Roosevelt consulted with his cabinet, congressional leaders and economic experts before issuing his sweeping proclamation.

At the White House it was said that the step has been in contemplation and in the making for at least two weeks.

Former Secretary Mills was in constant conference Sunday on the proclamation and it was believed to have his hearty approval.

President Roosevelt, it was said, has known for some time that some such a move as was made might have to be undertaken and two months ago he familiarized himself with the provisions of the trading with the enemy act, under which a part of the drastic action was taken.

Work on the statement itself began at 2:30 p. m. Sunday when the cabinet met and it was shaped through a continuous series of conferences which lasted until within approximately thirty minutes of the time it was copied for newspaper men.

JOHN J. WATSON DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

After a lingering illness, John J. Watson, 61 years, 8 months and 16 days old, passed away at his home on Sherman street, this city, at 7:50 o'clock Saturday night, March 4. The deceased was a native of Cumberland, Ky., in which state he was born June 18, 1871. He came to Texas when a youth of 9 years and had made this state his home ever since.

Funeral services were held at the home Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. M. Atherton, Baptist minister of Sherman. Interment followed in the Warden cemetery, in Northeast Collin, under the direction of the Isaac Crouch Funeral home of this city.

Surviving are his wife and three children, Mrs. A. L. Layman of Prosper, Johnnie and Ila of McKinney, and his mother, Mrs. J. B. Watson. He was preceded in death by one son, Irvin.

While Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Epting of Celina were recently ill with influenza, somebody entered their garage and carried off all of their canned goods, preserves and jellies. The entire family was ill with the flu at the time.

Dr. C. M. Simpson went over to Denton Saturday after his daughter, Miss Helen, a student in C. I. A., and brought her home to spend the week-end. Miss Helen is a very bright young girl of winsome personality and a favorite among her friends, both young and old.

D. A. Baker, prominent Fort Worth businessm an, came over to McKinney to visit his wife and accompany her back home Sunday afternoon. The latter, while visiting her mother, Mrs. W. B. Smith, at Prosper, last week, fell and dislocated her elbow. She was brought to the McKinney City hospital to have the member set and was then a guest in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wal-

(March 4, 1908.)

R. L. Ray has received a letter of thanks from W. W. Kerr of Prosper, whose son, the late Cloyd Kerr, held a policy in the Home Life Insurance Company of New York, that Mr. Ray represented here until its withdrawal from the state. Mr. Ray promptly collected the policy and turned the check over to the bereaved father and mother.

Rev. Hugh McClellan, county missionary of the Christian churches, preached at the First Christian church in McKinney Sunday. Rev. Mr. McClellan was a lawyer here at McKinney for several years before entering the active ministry.

G. W. Gerrish and wife have gone to spend a week visiting in Oklahoma, after which they will proceed to Twin Falls, Idaho, to make their future home.

A. J. Lane, formerly a McKinney business man, was buried at Greenville yesterday where he had been living for several years. He was born in Sullivan county, Tennessee, July 30, 1856, and came to Texas in 1874. He first settled in Tarrant county and in 1876 moved to Collin county, living here at McKinney. On January 7, 1877, he married Miss Annie Wilmeth, daughter of Manse W. Wilmeth, and sister of D. P. (Pedro) Wilmeth. He was a member of the Christian church.

As good almost kill a man as kill a good book; who kills a man kills a reasonable creature, God's image, but he who destroys a good book kills reason itself.—John Milton.

And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.—Luke XVIII, 13.

Better buy a black land farm in Collin county while they are cheap. Never be so cheap again. Now, we expect someone to give us the "horse laugh." All right, we have had it given to us before. Buy a home, even if only a few acres.

Do the very best you can. Serve your God and love your neighbors. You can then look the old world square in the face and feel strengthened and confident in your life. You will also be in addition rewarded by the utmost esteem of the general public.

There are a few people who think it real smart to go around cussing, abusing and villifying somebody. Wrong. Such perverted character assassins fail to get anywhere. They are nuisances in the sight of both God and man. Life is too short and friendship is too golden for such low and uncouth manners and attitude toward our fellow beings.

French newspapers recently quoted Mrs. Elizabeth Morgan, sister-in-law of Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh, to the effect that the Lindberghs are planning to locate in Southern France to rear their second child and be more safe from the kidnapers of gangland. This doesn't sound well for law enforcement in the United States.

A news item in this paper recently told of a farmer near Melissa advertising for 120 men to set out onion slips. In commenting on this item. Editor Sam Fryar of the Clarksville Times says, "Yes, they'll have that whole country smelling like Farmersville in a few more weeks." Look out, Sam, or you'll have Editor Marvin Smith landing on you with all four feet. He won't stand slighty remarks about "Friendly Farmersville."

We heard a man say the other day that booze would come back and that there was only one line of business that he would engage in—the undertaking business. His contention was that when the open saloon came back and the Tin Lizzies were turned loose, that there would have to be an undertaking establishment every few miles. Right. But wrong, because booze and beer will not come back. The American people are still in control, and we have not lost faith in their intelligence.

McKinney is proud of the sentiment that cements together the city spirit that causes her citizens to lay down their own business to respond to the Chamber of Commerce's call on every request. Our business and professional men are pulling together as one man. This unity of thought, purpose and action has secured results that have been important and far reaching in the past. Members of the Chamber of Commerce are determined that its united cooperation must continue. New members should identify themselves with the organization and have a part in the good work that is being done for the entire county.

One of the oldest county seat newspapers in Texas is the Clarksville Times of which Sam B. Fryar is the versatile editor. It recently entered its sixty-fifth year. Sam is one of the brightest editorial paragraphers and most successful country editors in the South. Collin county's first newspaper, the McKinney Messenger, had its beginning at Clarksville in 1855 under the late James W. Thomas as publisher, who moved it to McKinney in 1859 and continued to publish it here for more than sixteen years before he retired from the newspaper game.

Few local people, even some members, do not realize the tremendous amount of work that is done by the McKinney Chamber of Commerce and the great need to every man, woman and child in the city of such an organization. It is a credit to hold membership and have a part in an institution that is so vital to the welfare in so many ways of our entire city. The organization is of inestimable value to McKinney and our entire county, regardless of its personnel, says President Jas. H. Merritt who heads the organization. And he is right.

Not only Princeton, but all Collin county is proud of the wonderful showing of that little East Collin city in all lines of basket ball this year. Backed by the entire citizenship, a committee of public spirited Princetonians bought and paid for a wonderful community hall and gymnasium in which they held several big tournaments—An invitation girls' and boys tourney for the county, a commissioners' district tournament, both boys and girls, and the North Texas A. A. U. girls' tournament were all held there. The Princeton teams—both boys and girls—made fine showings throughout the season. The Princeton boys went to the finals of the District 2 tournament. The girls won the District 2 championship and second place in the North Texas A. A. U., being beaten out only by the famous Mesquite High girls. Prof. Sontag coached the boys teams and Prof. Elburn [illegible] coached the girls. Collin county is proud of Princeton and its rise into basket ball prominence. It is a good [illegible] with surrounding country and a high class citizenship.

One of the most important community enterprises put over in recent months anywhere in the county is the Princeton Community hall built by the citizens of that splendid little city located about seven miles east of McKinney. It has a seating capacity of 1,000 people for basket ball games and even a larger capacity for home talent plays or other community public meetings. J. Willis Neal, cashier of the Citizens State bank at that place, is the executive head of the group of citizens who built the hall and in managing it. This spacious hall is appreciated in the field of athletics throughout North Texas and Southeast Oklahoma. Princeton never had a better advertisement.

The best way on earth to make McKinney the best town in Texas, is for the people to co-operate with each other one hundred per cent, trade with each other one hundred per cent, stay out of Dallas and these other towns one hundred per cent, and dimes to doughnuts, that in a few months you will see McKinney "blossom as a green bay tree by the river's brink." Of course, we know some people who will say we are, "Nutty." We may be. But, just keep on going away from McKinney to trade, and you will see where your property finally dwindles to, if you have property. If you have no property, then you will be able to buy it at twenty-five cents on the dollar, if things continue as they are. You may laugh at us now. But you will eventually change your, tune believe us.

We believe that the majority of the people ought to be allowed to say that prohibition should be maintained or repealed. Many advocates of repeal favor the convention system in the hope that shrewd political manipulators can control a convention and bring about action in favor of repeal more easily than they could through the legislature or by direct vote of the people. With hand-combed and manipulated conventions the will of the majority of the people can be thwarted. At least it cannot be ascertained. In our opinion the wets would not be willing to leave the settlement to a vote of the majority. In fact, we don't know if the convention system contemplates a popular vote to constitute and instruct it. But anyhow, the delegates to the convention should be elected by a majority of their constituents

Hon. J. Dud Cottrell, Plano lawyer and former member of the Texas legislature from this county, commemorated his half-century residence at Plano with a dining on the evening of February 21. He came from Tennessee as a seventeen year old boy, arriving in Plano, February 21, 1883. He was first a farm boy, then attended school in Plano and worked in the grocery store of W. H. Chandler, father of H. Grady Chandler, now a law professor in the State University at Austin. Dud Cottrell is a genial, big hearted friend. These editors join his other numerous friends throughout the county in wishing him continued good health and many more years of usefulness and honor.

A man told us the other day that the only fault he found with our paper was that we are always saying nice things about people—some he knew were deadheads, draw-backs and slackers in the town and community. That may be so, in lots of instances. The man himself, who talked to this editor, was not a shining light. These editors believe in scattering sunchine, instead of beclouding the Heavens. You can catch lots of flies with sugar, but precious few, with vinegar, and besides, every man and every woman is entitled to something nice being said about them when they are really nice. It makes an editor feel much better to say something good about people than to be habitually "running them down." As far as these editors are concerned: "We ain't mad at nobody." So, whether you are rich or poor, high or low, in debt or out of debt, or doing your best to get in debt, you can always get a square deal in our papers, whether you are a subscriber, friend or patron.

Dr. H. F. Vermillion, pastor of the Baptist church at Nevada, who is one of the most widely known and ablest leaders of his denomination in Texas, recently wrote a congratulatory note to the editors of the Weekly Democrat-Gazette on the occasion of its entering its fiftieth year of publication. Dr. Vermillion, who has occupied some of the best pulpits as pastor in the state and in addition some connectional posts of great responsibility, was reared near Altoga, northeast of McKinney. He said that his parents, brothers and sisters had always looked upon the Weekly Democrat-Gazette as their most prized family fireside paper, which he has continued to have follow him wherever he has gone during his ministry. We thank Dr. Vermillion for the praise that he saw fit to give our humble newspaper efforts in behalf of the nobler things of life, which the paper ever stands for. It is just friends like Dr. Vermillion who make the bright spots in the lives of hard worked editors. We value such friends above rubies or gold.

Every professional and business man or woman in McKinney, as well as every merchant and owner, should be a member of the Chamber of Commerce and support it with both money and influence, is the belief of Thos. Johnson, chairman of the Finance committee of that organization. His viewpoint is not confined merely to the personal benefits derived from supporting and aiding in the work of the Chamber, but he also points with pride to McKinney of today, modern and progressive, as an example of the development and growth championed and fostered through the efforts of a live, wide-awake Chamber of Commerce like McKinney has had for twenty-six years. He says that if the benefits derived from this organization were more thoroughly understood, our people would rally to its support with greater unanimity than they are doing. Mr. Johnson is looked upon as one of the best bankers of North Texas. Like other shrewd business men, he wants to see our Chamber of Commerce adequatly supported so it can continue to pull for McKinney and Collin county with more power and energy during the present year than ever before.

COOPERATION—NOT COMPETITION.

We are taught, many of us, from our youth onwards, that competition is essential to the health and progress of the race. Or, as Herbert Spencer puts it, "Society flourishes by the antagonism of its atoms." But the obvious golden truth is that co-operation is good and competition bad, and that society flourishes by the mutual aid of human beings. I say that it is obvious, and so it is. And it is so well known that in all great military or commercial enterprises individuals have to be subordinated to collective action. We do not believe that a house divided against itself shall stand; we believe that it shall fall. We know that a state divided by internal feuds and torn by faction fighting can not hold its own against a united people. We know that in a cricket or football game, a regiment, a ship's crew, a school, the "antagonism of the atoms" would mean defeat and failure. We know that a society composed of antagonistic atoms would not be a society at all, and could not exist as a society. We know that if men are to be found and govern cities, to build bridges and make roads, to establish universities, to sail ships and sink mines, and create educational systems, and policies and religions, they must work together and not against one another. Surely these things are as obvious as the fact that there could be no hive unless the bees worked as a colony and on the lines of mutual aid.—Robert Blatchford.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. MARY F. THOMPSON

MOTHER-IN-LAW CITY COMMISSIONER CHAS. M. BRYAN

City Hall Closed; All Work Suspended

On account of the death and funeral of Mrs. Mary F. Thompson, mother-in-law of Commissioner C. M. Bryan, Mayor Perkins and Commissioner Brockman closed the City Hall at noon Saturday and suspended all city work, so that employes of the city could attend the funeral of this fine Christian woman.

Death came very suddenly at 7:00 o'clock Friday evening, March 3, to Mrs. Mary F. Thompson, a dearly beloved old McKinney mother, at her late home, 714 North Church street, and mother-in-law of City Commissioner Chas. M. Bryan. However, she had been in frail health for several months and bedfast for a couple of weeks, when, without sign of immediate demise, the brittle cord of life snapped, and her soul took flight to the better world where sickness and the frailties of age never come.

Funeral Services.

Funeral services were conducted at 3:00 o'clock last Saturday afternoon at the family residence by Dr. J. H. Cozad, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Rev. G. B. Bradshaw, pastor of the North McKinney Baptist church, after which a long cortege of bereaved relatives and sorrowing friends followed the remains to the Chambersville cemetery, about eight miles north of McKinney, where the tired old body was gently laid to rest beside the grave of her husband, who died, January 23, 1894. The Issac Crouch Funeral home was in charge of the burial arrangements.

Active pall bearers were: Rufus A. Furr, Sam Hill, Oscar Marshall, J. K. Drury, W. W. Ransom, Prof. W. S. Smith, Ernest Wilson and R. P. Durham.

A large number of friends from the Chambersville community where the deceased came when a [illegible] lady and lived so long [illegible] ministers were paid to the deceased and beautiful floral offerings were fit emblems of her pure Christian, motherly character.

Born In Tennessee.

Miss Mary Frances Chambers was born, March 10, 1845, at Lebanon, Tennessee, where her parents both lived and died. Her parents were James and Susan (Chandler) names that were respected and influential in Tennessee and from which families some of the most honored pioneer stock of Collin county originated. At the time of her death, she was 87 years, 11 months and 23 days old. She received such education as was possible in her childhood and girlhood and had one year of study in the academy at Taylorsville, Tennessee. After the death of her parents, the deceased in 1869 came to Texas. Coming with her were her only brother, Fielder Chambers, and two sisters, who afterwards became Mrs. Z. T. Chambers and Mrs. Letha Buchanan. These four accompanied a train of covered wagons in which former District Clerk W. T. Cox was also numbered and other well known names afterwards in the affairs of their adopted state and county here. The four nephews and nieces came to make their home with their uncle, Col. Ed Chambers, who then lived on Benge street, somewhere about the present location of Joe E. Largent's home. Their uncle, the late Col. Ed Chambers, was for many years prominent in political and civic affairs of this county, having during his active career served in the state legislature and also as one of the delegates from this county with the late Capt. John Johnson Sr. in the state constitutional convention of 1876 that framed the present basic law of the state.

Married In McKinney.

She was married in April, 1870, in McKinney, to Archie Thompson, The young couple went to housekeeping on their farm in the Chambersville community, which she still owned at the time of her death. Six children were born to this happy union of whom five are surviving as follows: Jim C. Thompson, a grocery merchant of Garland, Texas; Mrs. J. L. Cox, Decatur, Texas; Mrs. P. M. Bounds, Chico, Texas; Mrs. Chas. M. Bryan, wife of City Commissioner Chas. M. Bryan of McKinney, and Miss Archie Thompson, a deputy in the County Tax Collector's office for several years. One daughter, Mrs. Will Lockhart, died in the Chambersville community about thirty years ago. As above stated, she was left a widow by the death of her husband on January 23, 1894. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Z. T. Chambers of McKinney and Mrs. Martha Mason of Lebanon, Tennessee. She is also survived by nineteen grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Thompson and daughter moved to McKinney about twenty-three years ago, residing at their home, 714 North Church street, where she passed away. In early girlhood, she professed religion and became identified with the Baptist church in which faith she lived and died, being a member of the North McKinney Baptist church after her removal to McKinney. She was a quiet, home-loving wife and mother and devout Christian in her daily walk. She was a kind neighbor and always considerate and sympathetic with those about her in sorrow or in distress. Her memory will be cherished as an old fashioned, ideal mother, grandmother and Christian friend and neighbor who blessed the world during her long, busy life in countless ways in her humble pilgrimage that marked her earthly life.

Mrs. O. K. Snider of Dallas is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Ida Pittman, and other friends and relatives in this city for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Walton visited the latter's mother, Mrs. W. B. Smith, at Prosper, Sunday, who has not been well recently. However, they found her condition to be considerably improved.

Duer Burton, a young Fort Worth business man, wife and pretty little baby son, Billie Duer, spent the week-end with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. [illegible] of McKinney.

YOUR HOME TOWN

SEEN HERE AND THERE.

Most of us were "on the inside looking at the outside" during Sunday's heavy rainfall . . . Miss Irene Manley on her way home to lunch . . . "Your Home Town" has no more loyal friend than Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy; verily, McKinney does itself proud to boast of such a public-spirited resident . . . Al Drain comes by to say "hello" . . . In a conversation with Mrs. J. P. Harding we learn that the Red Cross work room will open this week up on North Kentucky street . . . Sheriff G. J. S. Walker out in town, wearing a heavy overcoat, with fur collar 'n' everything . . . Everywhere we went Saturday we found radios going at a high pitch with presidential inaugural proceedings coming over the air . . . Isn't it funny how a crossword or a jig-saw puzzle causes you to relax after a hard day's work . . . Glad to see our good friend, C. M. Cooper, back home; his father in Edgerton, Wyo., is improved . . . The popular song, "Here It Is Monday and I've Still Get a Dollar," was changed by a crooner over a radio station today, to "Here It Is Monday and I Haven't Got a Dollar."

A COINCIDENCE.

That was a coincidence Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Sam Cotner, now of Breckenridge, walked into our office as we were reading an item about her in the "25 Years Ago" column of The Daily Courier-Gazette. The item in the column published a quarter of a century ago followed: "Mrs. Sam Cotner received members of Third Ward Aid society of the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon. She served hot chocolate, cake and fruit." Mrs. Cotner has been a guest here of her friend, Mrs. Charlie Sears. She called by to renew acquaintances in our office and to renew for The Daily Courier-Gazette.

THE INAUGURATION.

Thousands of radios were brought into use all day Saturday. Newspapers carried prominent headlines and in other means news agencies told of the progress of the inauguration of President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner. "Your Home Town" was fortunate in hearing via the radio the administering of the oath to the incoming chief executive by Charles Evans Hughes, chief justice of the supreme court, and also heard the new president deliver his speech of acceptance—one of the most impressive we have ever heard. Clothed in the common, every-day vernacular, the address was one that no one could misunderstand. It behooves the millions of Americans, regardless of party affiliations, to fall in line and help bring America back along the road to economic independence.

WILD ANIMAL HUNTERS.

Those of you who have always had a secret desire to engage in one of those adventurous wild animal hunts, need look no more for such a thrill. Nosirree, for press dispatches tell us a wild lion is being hunted over in Fannin county. Now, you can go over there and hunt a wild animal—and who knows but what said animal may come on down to Collin county. Then, we'll have wild animals all our own to hunt. The lion is believed to have escaped from a carnival in Ardmore, Okla.

FAVORITE SUBJECT.

Last Monday we remember a paragraph in our column describing the weather conditions over the week-end. Well, we could repeat that story in our column today, for the weather the past week-end was—well, anything but pleasant. Rain, setting in about midnight Saturday, continued incessantly until Sunday night, putting the creeks out of banks and causing most of our friends to stay "housed up" for the day. The cooler weather Sunday afternoon caused the rain to cease later and about nightfall the clouds began to disperse, leaving a bright moon in the sky.

INDOOR PASTIME.

We must admit that the kind of weather we've been having the past few days has been ideal for those who have jig-saw puzzles to work. Oh well, we've always heard every cloud has a silver lining.

INSOMNIA CURE.

Yesterday we heard of a new use for technocracy. A friend says discussing it is a splendid cure for insomnia.

Louis Jackson of Dallas spent the week-end in McKinney, a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] A. Jackson.

MAYOR PERKINS AND CITY COMMISSIONERS BRYAN AND BROCKMAN FOR RE-ELECTION

To The Voters and Citizenship of McKinney:

We herewith submit our candidacies for re-election to our respective positions as Mayor and City Commissioners of McKinney at the forthcoming municipal election, to be held Tuesday, April 4, 1933, and respectfully solicit your support and influence.

We have earnestly endeavored to serve you efficiently, honestly and faithfully in these capacities as public servants and submit our candidacies on our record already made with the promise to redouble our energies and vigilance to serve McKinney in the future to the very best of our ability.

We appreciate the widespread solicitation that we have received from the voters to make our announcements for re-election. We appreciate the wonderful support, co-operation and good-will of our entire citizenship in the past and crave a continuation of the same at your hands in the future. Thanking you in advance for every favor shown us and our candidacies, we are,

Yours Very Gratefully,
TOM W. PERKINS,
Mayor.

Statement by Commissioner C. M. Bryan.

To the Citizens of McKinney:

Two years ago, at the request of many of my friends and against my personal wishes in the matter, I submitted my name as a candidate for commissioner of the city of McKinney. The people saw fit to elect me to this office, and since my election, I have, at all times, tried to serve the people of McKinney to the very best of my ability, and I have also tried to be the servant of all the people. Upon my election, I pushed aside politics and centered my attention to the service of McKinney, as a whole. I feel that I am now better qualified to serve the people than when first elected. I have, therefore, submitted my name for re-election to this office and respectfully solicit the consideration of all citizens of McKinney, having regard only for the welfare of our splendid little city, in the forthcoming election.

Very Respectfully Yours,
C. M. BRYAN,
City Commissioner.

George P. Brown Has Another Very Old Deed

I have in my possession a deed executed by John D. Brown (my grandfather) to Martin Stelzer (his son-in-law) on the 18th day of March, 1856, conveying 100 acres of land, part of the John D. Brown, Headright survey, in Collin County, Texas, situated on the waters of Honey Creek; the consideration was $100.

This instrument was filed for record Oct. 28, 1899. It was discovered there was a missing link in the chain of title when the late Ben Rhine, merchant of McKinney, was buying the land.

It was learned that Martin Stelzer was then living at Pilot Point, Denton County, Texas. Mr. Rhine visited Mr. Stelzer and procured the deed, had it recorded and gave it to me.

This deed was "signed, sealed and delivered in the presence of A. T. Robertson George W. Stambagh."

John D. Brown was born at Tazwell, W. Va. (Virginia at that time) Aug. 3, 1787; he died at Pilot Point, April 23, 1874, and is there buried.

BOUNDS FAMILY ELEVEN BOYS AND TWO GIRLS

REARED IN MISS.—SEVERAL WERE AND ARE METHODIST PREACHERS

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following "appreciation" recently appeared in the "Commerce Methodist" of which Rev. Minor Bounds is the editor. It is a fine tribute to his old uncle, who recently passed away. The deceased was one of eleven sons in the same family besides two daughters. The only one of the eleven brothers now surviving is Albert Brown of Calhoun City, Miss. Two of the brothers were former residents of Collin county—W. F. Bounds of near Old Empire, about halfway between Nevada and Copeville, who resided there for about twenty years. The other was Rev. Ben Bounds, a Methodist preacher, who was pastor at Farmersville for two years and also at one time pastor at Old Bethel, between Frisco and Prosper in West Collin, and also about forty years ago pastor of the Nevada circuit. W. F. Bounds was the father of Rev. Minor Bounds, pastor of the Methodist church at Commerce and also the father of Rev. Clarence Bounds, pastor of the Methodist church at St. Jo, Texas. Rev. Ben Bounds was the father of Rev. C. L. Bounds, now pastor of the Methodist church at Grand Prairie, Texas, and also father of the late Dr. Wiley Bounds of Prosper in West Collin. Some other more distant relatives of the Bounds family and name have also lived in this county around Verona and Blue Ridge.'

An Appreciation.

Last week a good man, A. J. Bounds, an uncle of mine, passed away. This uncle was a man of outstanding qualities of character. His father, my grandfather, settled in what is onw Calhoun county, Mississippi, in 1832. Grandfather helped organize the county and built his home and reared a large family. Eleven sons and two daughters blessed this home. Four of the sons saw active service in the War Between the States and one fell in battle. All of the sons lived to reach manhood. Two of them died in young manhood.

It is not my purpose to write a history of this family, but I wish to write a few things about this good uncle of mine who last Wednesday, Feb. 8, passed away. I remember him when I was just a lad a few years before father brought his family to Texas.

I never saw him any more until 1925 when I made a visit to the old home community. This good man was Sunday school superintendent and steward of the old Pine Ridge Methodist church, the church in that community that has a history sacred to many. In my visit to the little church and the service we held, there were feelings that words can not picture. The next year my brother and I held a revival in the old home community. There were 96 conversions and most of them joined some church. Sixty-five of the converts came into the Methodist church. It was a great revival. I write of this because my departed uncle had much to do in getting me to hold the revival and did much in making the revival a success.

"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." Uncle Andy was a big hearted man and many said to me in my visits to see him and others, that he was true and honest. He suffered several years before the end came. I remember well the Sunday night at the close of the revival when I told him goodbye, how he held on to my hand and with tears in his eyes he said, "God bless you." I can feel that grip now. Our good uncle died in the house he was born in. He lived more than three-score years and reared a large family, boys and girls, who will call him blessed and ever remember their good father's advice. Our good aunt, his wife, was so brave and good to him. Angels must sing songs of love and devotion when beholding such family love.

Another thing we must say is, in the going of this man only one of the large family is left, Uncle Albert Bounds, the last of eleven sons. It must be a lonely feeling to him to think that as far as brothers are concerned they have all gone. The old birthplace, the little schoolhouse and church, will remind this last son of his lonesomeness. Yes, we think it is more and more true that "one by one we are gathered home." "What a gathering that will be" when we all get to heaven!

We are publishing this brief and imperfect expression of appreciation in our little church paper, not for the public here, for he was not known in this community, but that we may send to the family our esteem of Uncle Andy. "God be with you until we meet again."

His Nephew,
MINOR BOUNDS.

PRES. MERRITT ANNOUNCES C. OF C. COMMITTEES

A very interesting monthly session of the Board of Directors of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce was held from 4 to 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at which time, Jas. H. Merritt, the new president, presided. W. Hammond Moore, the efficient secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting and recorded the proceedings of this one.

A report of the Refinance corporation activities at McKinney was made by F. Dudley Perkins, local director. Mr. Perkins stated that about 600 have been on the list receiving unemployment aid work.

Joe E. Largent, who has been assisting County Director T. E. Craig in this work, also was called on for a report. Mr. Largent has traveled considerably over the county, assisting the citizenship at the various points in getting the benefit of the Refinance corporation funds. He has done some very efficient and faithful work in this line for the benefit of the unemployed breadwinners of the county. He made the statement that the Refinance corporation had announced $18,000 more allocated to Collin county for the months of March and April. This is $4,000 more than came to the county for the same purpose for the months of January and February.

Will J. Rhea, a new director, was present, and was given a cordial welcome. He was a director of the Chamber of Commerce some years ago.

In the absence of Dr. P. D. Robason, chairman of the public health committee, Sec. W. Hammond Moore made the report for him. Some plans were outlined that Dr. Robason hopes to carry out later this spring and summer, possibly by the aid of the Refinance corporation fund.

J. Ed Gibson, chairman of the tax committee, was called on but had no new developments to report.

W. P. Abernathy, chairman of the civic committee, announced that his committee, which is composed of members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are working to have the names of the streets and blocks of the city marked on the curbs over town. He stated that some effort would be made to help improve traffic regulations, and to sponsor an open forum for McKinney.

Chairman A. Hardy Eubanks of the highway committee informed the directors that County Judge J. Frank Harrington states that work is progressing as fast as weather conditions will permit on the three highways of the county that are being improved. Mr. Eubanks, who is also president of the Collin County Fair association for this year, reported that the county fair would begin this fall on September 25. Another good horse show is being arranged for and polo games also will be on the program. Amusements will be provided by the Isler Greater Shows company that were here during the fair of 1931.

At the conclusion of the regular board meeting, Tom Johnson, chairman of the finance committee, held an important session of his committee to work on the financial budget of the year.

Mrs. M. H. Garnett has returned from a business trip to Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marshall and the latter's mother, Mrs. Annie Wilson, of Waco, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Myrick and little son, Edward Earl, the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sellers of this city are happy over the arrival of a sweet little granddaughter. The little miss was born to Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wilkes in Dallas, March 1. Mrs. Wilkes will be remembered as Miss Connie Sellers of this city before her marriage. She and her baby are in Baylor hospital, where both are doing nicely. The many friends of the happy young parents here and elsewhere extend congratulations to them upon the arrival of their baby daughter.

Dr. J. A. Old, former pastor of the First Methodist church this city, but now of Terrell, Texas, passed through McKinney Saturday morning en route to St. Vincent's hospital, Sherman, to attend the bedside of his sister, Mrs. J. A. Gaines, of Tioga. Mrs. Gaines' condition is reported to be serious. He returned to McKinney this afternoon to attend the funeral of Mrs. Jas. A. Caldwell, a devoted member of his church here during his McKinney pastorate.

Clyde Chandler of the Gulf Service station, corner North Church and West Heard streets, informs us that his sister, Mrs. C. M. Smith, who resides northwest of McKinney, is ill with pneumonia. His mother, Mrs. G. C. Chandler, who resides west of town and who had been attending her daughter's bedside, also took ill with pneumonia, but we are glad to state that she is much better.

FUNERAL OF MRS. JAS. A. CALDWELL HELD SATURDAY

BURIAL FOLLOWED IN PECAN GROVE CEMETERY LARGELY ATTENDED

MRS. JAS. A. CALDWELL.

At 12:40 o'clock p. m. Friday, March 3, Mrs. S. K. Caldwell, wife of Dr. Jas. A. Caldwell, of this city, suddenly passed away at the family home on South Tennessee street after a period of several months' failing health. However, her death came suddenly without warning and was not expected by the family and nurses at the time, although her condition was regarded as extremely critical.

Born in Alabama.

She was born at Carrollton, Alabama, Oct. 20, 1861, being at the time of her death, 71 years, 4 months and 13 days old. Miss [illegible] K. Puckett was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis (Tur[illegible]) Puckett, a farm couple who moved to Clarendon, Ark., when she was a little girl only 10 years old. She was reared in the latter state, where she was married when only a little more than 16 years old, on Jan. 24, 1878, at Conway, Ark., to Dr. Jas. A. Caldwell, who was also yet in his 'teens and who was then an ambitious young attorney, but who soon thereafter entered medical college and became a successful practicing physician. Their marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas McCullough, a Methodist minister. The couple had, therefore, walked side by side as loving husband and wife for a little more than fifty-five years when separated by death's inexorable decree at the above stated hour and date. The writer and wife had the rare privilege of sharing their golden wedding anniversary dinner with them and other members of their family on January 24, 1928, which event was observed in a very quiet but joyful way. We vividly remember a toast offered on that occasion to the groom and bride of a half century before given in the eloquent words of the late Rev. P. C. Archer of Dallas, a former pastor, whose words in part were "A half century has flown and brought your 'Golden Jubilee.' Those sacred vows, so gladly made, faithfully you've kept, the victory won, and now you both are free. The witnesses are gone, but here you are, still standing side by side, but not alone. The vision startles me, and you look around you and behold: Contrast this scene with that of fifty years ago. What your hearts and hands have wrought can not be told as you've travelled on together along life's rugged road. Sometimes, mid scenes of deepest gloom, and then adown life's flowing river where flowers bloom with brightest blue and sweetest odor, all the while doing good without a murmur, blessing others day by day. You've made your lives sublime ministering in every way. What I see now leads me to say, there's been but little wasted time."

To Texas in 1886.

The struggling young physician and bride moved to Texas in 1886. The first three years they lived in the Climax community, twelve miles east of McKinney, where the doctor practiced and then came to McKinney, which was her home during the remainder of life. She was the mother of five children, of whom two survive—President Gibson Caldwell of the Collin County Mill & Elevator company of McKinney and Roy Caldwell, prominent local grocery merchant. Her other three children died in babyhood. Besides her heartbroken husband and two sons and wives, she is survived by five grandchildren—Jas. A. Caldwell, Jr., Roy Caldwell, Jr., Miss Marion Caldwell, a senior of Southern Methodist university, and little Misses Catherine and Goldie Mae Caldwell. The grandson, Jas. A. Caldwell, Jr., is also a student in S. M. U., being a junior. The deceased is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Harry Edbrook, of Denver, Colo., who recently returned home after visiting for several days at her bedside here in McKinney.

Church Funeral Service.

The deceased had been a devout Christian ever since her earliest childhood and always an active member of the Methodist church almost unto the very close of her consecrated life or until failing physical strength rendered church attendance no longer possible. Funeral services were held at the First Methodist church at 3:00 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, in which congregation she held membership for so many years. Her pastor, Dr. Claude M. Simpson, and her presiding elder, Dr. H. G. Ryan, paid beautiful and well-merited tributes to her life of service and helpfulness in every relationship. The Isaac Crouch Funeral home was in charge of the burial arrangements. Flowers came in profusion and matchless beauty in her memory and as tokens of sympathy to the bereaved ones not only from home friends and other points in the state, but also many messages of condolence were received from friends and acquaintances from over this state and from other states.

Active pallbearers: Sims Cameron, Walter B. Wilson, Will C. Gerrish, Horace H. Neilson, Wallace Hughston, I. R. Dillow, Jim B. Goodner and J. Frank Smith.

Honorary pallbearers: Mayor Tom W. Perkins, Dr. H. G. Gould, Dr. E. L. Burton, Jake Dyer, Arbie Sparlin, Tip Purnell, Dr. D. F. Houston, G. G. McAlexander, C. M. Cooper, George Reinhardt, George P. Brown, C.C. Harris, Dr. B F. Largent, J. J. Thompson, Add G. Wilson, Judge G. R. Smith, Prof. Jack R. Ryan, Dr. W. T. Hoard, Dr. W. S. Wysong, Sam J. Massie, Chas. P. Heard, Chas. H. Newman, Dallas; Dr. W. W. Samuel, Dallas; Grover Hight, Sherman; Jim P. Dowell, A. M. Scott, F. C. Thompson and Clint Thompson.

A Gifted Woman.

When the firmness and vigor of her faith, the intensity of her devotion, the fullness of her sacrifice and the scope of her interests and achievements as a Christian wife, devoted mother, friend and neighbor is realized one can not hesitate to call her a very unusual woman of gifted mind and lifelong spiritual devotion. She always seemed able to separate the incidental from the essential and the temporal from the immortal part. Even down to what men call old age, she maintained a keen interest, not only in the study of scriptures but also in the great books of literature and in touch with currents of modern thinking and living. Her heart was as great and gracious as her intellect, and there was room in her sympathy for all of God's creatures. Her helpful service included all who needed affection and encouragement in the battle of life, not only within the circle of her own home community but likewise went out to the ends of the earth. It might be said of her that in her garden of love all the virtues and graces of Christian womanhood came to full bloom. She loved her Maker, she loved her friends, praised them and poured out her sympathy for them in sorrow and rejoiced with them in their blessings both temporal and spiritual. She was an efficient Sunday school teacher for several years of the Emma Pettus class of women who reluctantly gave her up as teacher when she felt that her physical strength could not longer allow her to teach. She was formerly active in the Women's Missionary society, Eastern Star, Rebekahs and Rathborn Sisters. She was thorough, loyal and whole-souled in whatever she undertook and in whatever she conceived to be her duty. But the controlling influence of her life was her clear and definite religious experience and unfailing devotion to the church. She was always present with her loved ones at every service of her church when possible. She lived in an atmosphere of faith and prayer, which was the mainspring from which her program of life was always planned. She was a devoted lover of nature, flowers and especially little children. She was:

"A woman to whom the children
clung,
Whose praise the poor and aged sung."

She was always liberal in her practical sympathies and support, not only of the church, but also of every worthy appeal. However, she shrank from public display or knowledge of her beneficences of whatever character. Indeed her memory will abide as a fragrant aroma and inspiration in the lives of loved ones and her great hosts of loving friends everywhere who ever knew her saintly life.

M'KINNEY 25 Years Ago

(Feb. 22, 1908.)

A. G. Chandler funeral services were held at the First Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. B. Gober, assisted by Rev. E. H. Casey of Greenville, formerly of McKinney. A long procession followed his remains to Pecan Grove cemetery, where burial took place.

Frank Allen, who was born and reared at McKinney has been elected alderman at Ennis. His wife was formerly Miss Pearl Lucas, daughter of Col. Gabe Lucas of this city.

Misses Sallie Gibson, Rena Ogilvie and Lena Graves, all of Melissa, are guests here of Miss Jennie Gibson.

Master G. A. Wilson, a pupil of the South Ward school, sustained a dislocated hip in a fall at that school Thursday. He is a son of Prof. and Mrs. T. M. Wilson.

Prof. G. W. West, principal of the Frisco public schools, and a candidate for county superintendent, is among McKinney business visitors today.

T. B. Wilson, veteran surveyor and large landholder, is back at his office today after a severe illness of several weeks' duration.

Mrs. Mary Stinebaugh, widow of Granville Stinebaugh, early Southeast Collin settler, died Feb. 7. She was born in Roland county, Kentucky, Aug. 16, 1823, being 85 years old. She and her husband came to Texas more than fifty years ago, first locating near McKinney, then moving to Nevada. She was the mother of [illegible] former county [illegible]

Mrs. T. H. Boals of Celina has departed for El Centro, Calif., to be with her son, George, who suffered a severe attack of pneumonai.

Arthur Field Heard, a young Sherman business man, came down to attend the Caldwell funeral, Saturday afternoon, and to spend the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. P. Heard, and his cousin, [illegible] of this city.

LELAND PERKINS DIES AT HOME IN CALIFORNIA

Lee Hedgcoxe, of the Hedgcoxe Nursery here, is in receipt of a message of the recent death of his nephew, Leland Perkins, which occurred about two weeks ago at his late home in California.

The deceased was well-known in McKinney, having formerly been in the nursery business here. He has many friends here who regret to hear of his passing.

M'KINNEY MAN VISITS THE MAGIC VALLEY

By the courtesy of my son, Amber T. P. Wheeler, we recently started at Dallas to Fort Worth, Hillsboro, Waco, Austin, San Antonio, Beeville, Alice, Falfurrios, Edinburg, McAllen, Harlingen, Brownsville and Matamoros, Mexico.

We spent a week in Harlingen. It was between there and San Benito that the death of Mr. Aycock and injury of Mr. Carver, both of Farmersville, occurred while we were there. Also the Huplain murder at San Benito.

During the week's stay in Harlingen I spent one afternoon and evening with Mr. Potts, who owns the famous "Adams Garden" nursery. Mr. Potts informed me that he had sold more than 4,000,000 citrus trees. He has large groves of citrus fruits, and a beautiful home. He being a former teacher in the A. & M. college of Texas and also California, his information was considered very valuable. Mr. Potts and his cultured wife accompanied us to Reanosa, Mexico, which is a dozen miles from Mercedes.

Amber Wheeler purchased a twenty-acre tract and the work of setting it to grapefruit, oranges, tangerines and lemons is now contracted and work started. He also is having the tract surrounded with palm trees. This tract is at Harlingen. He plans to build a home in this orchard in the future.

There is 176,097 population now in the valley counties. Mr. Wheeler thinks there will be 5,000,000 in ten years. There is at present 2,800 miles of canals over 100,000 acres now planted to citrus fruits, 550 miles of concrete and hard-surfaced roads. The valley highway program represents investments of $18,000,000. All cities are new and paved. I am not advertising for them but to my mind the even climate, inexhaustible soil, good health and the limited amount of such lands and climate in the United States is a guarantee that this will be in the near future the paradise of America.

Our return trip was the eastern route by way of Robstown, Bishop, Corpus Christi, Gonzales, Washington, the capitol of Texas as a Republic, Brenham. From Brenham we swung out to "Old Independance." I had an invitation to be present and take part in the "home-coming" in August, an annual Baptist occasion and take part in the program. I plan to go.

We stopped at Bryan thence to Waco and on back to Dallas, the starting point, covering a trip according to the speedometer of 3,000 miles. We were out two weeks.

M. F. WHEELER.

COUNTY FARM CARING FOR 55 PEOPLE

Claud Foster, the capable manager of the county farm, has about fifty-five people in his care of whom thirty-five are wards of the county and about twenty are working out fines.

He is utilizing all the available labor in farm work when he has it to do and can do it and when not thus engaged, is cutting wood in timber, belonging to Add G. Wilson.

Mr. Foster and wife, who is an expert in household work and conserving food by canning, make a specialty of raising lots of food, especially garden stuff and truck. These supplies come in handily in feeding the people under their care.

They made and put up lots of sorghum molasses last year and on Wednesday brought in forty gallons of good sorghum to be used by the county in helping to feed the dependent poor.

The taxpayers of the county are to be congratulated on having their county farm in the management of Claud Foster and wife. They take the utmost interest in their work and have a pride in keeping up the improvements on the farm and giving the best care possible to those entrusted to their keeping and custody.

Hon. V. Eugene Bailey, assistant district attorney of Dallas, has returned to his official duties there after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom L. Bailey, in McKinney. He found his sick mother to be improving. Joe D. Bailey, their other son, and wife have returned to their home at Duncan, Okla., after also visiting [illegible]

M'KINNEY FRIENDS ATTEND FUNERAL E. J. PARKER

Quite a delegation of McKinney people went to Sherman Thursday afternoon to attend the funeral and burial of Ernest J. Parker, one of the Sherman Democrat editors, who was reared from early childhood at McKinney.

McKinney editors attending were Clint and Carlie Thompson of the McKinney Examiner and Mayor Tom W. Perkins and Walter B. Wilson and Homer W. Wilson of The Daily Courier-Gazette and The Weekly Democrat-Gazette. Among others attending were: Homer Harris and wife, Sheriff G. J. S. Walker, Miss Mae Hall, Frank G. Dowell, Mrs. J. P. Nenney, Mr. and Mrs. Ed G. West, Mrs H. L. Davis, Mrs. E. L. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Pool and perhaps others whose names we have not gotten.

Funeral services were conducted at the residence on Loving avenue, Sherman, burial following in West Hill cemetery with his associates on the Sherman Democrat as active pall bearers.

The deceased was born at Waverly, Tenn., January 29, 1869, and was brought to Texas by his parents, the late R. L. Parker and wife, who settled in McKinney when he was a small child. His father, a veteran McKinney business man, died here eight or ten years ago. His aged mother is still living, residing in Dallas with her daughter, Mrs. Bettie Lee Fahm, a Dallas high school teacher. He is also survived by another sister, Mrs. W. H. Richardson, of Denver, Colo., and by one brother, Editor W. A. Parker of the Mt. Calm Citizen.

Mr. Parker learned the printer's trade in McKinney, commencing when he was only 11 years old with Clint Thompson, one of of the editors of the McKinney Examiner. They were later partners in the ownership of the McKinney Gazette when it was first established.

The deceased went to Sherman twenty-one years ago and died there at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning, Mar. 1, of heart trouble. He loved his profession of newspaper work with a consuming devotion and bore the reputation of being one of the most expert news reporters, editorial and feature writers on the Texas press.

He is survived by his wife and six children as follows: E. Rudolph Parker of Houston, Jack Parker, Denver, Colo.; Jim Parker, Sherman; Mrs. Norman C. Dorchester, Denison; Mrs. Frank Spindle, Sherman, and Mrs. Max I. Bevens, Amarillo.

He was married May 26, 1890, to Miss Minnie Starr, daughter of the late David E. Starr, prominent North Texas Conference Methodist preacher, who also survives.

ROOSEVELT

possession of money; it lies in the joy of achievement, in the thrill of creative effort. The joy and moral stimulation of work no longer must be forgotten in the mad chase of evanescent profits. These dark days will be worth all they cost us if they teach us that our true destiny is not to be ministered unto but to minister to ourselves and to our fellow men.

"Recognition of the falsity of material wealth as the standard of success goes hand in hand with the abandonment of the false belief that public office and high political position are to be valued only by the standards of pride and place and personal profit; and there must be an end to a conduct in banking and in business which too often has given to a sacred trust the likeness of callous and selfish wrongdoing. Small wonder that confidence languishes, for it thrives only on honesty, on honor, on the sacredness of obligations, on faithful protection, on unselfish performance; without them it can not live.

Calls for Action.

"Restoration calls, however, not for changes in ethics alone. This nation asks for action, and action now.

"Our greatest primary task is to put people to work. This is no unsolvable problem if we face it wisely and courageously. It can be helped by the unifying of relief activities which today are often scattered, uneconomical and unequal. It can be helped by national planning for and supervision of all forms of transportation and of communications and other utilities which have a definitely public character. There are many ways in which it can be helped, but it can never be helped merely by talking about it. We must act and act quickly.

Banking Problem.

"Finally, in our progress toward a resumption of work, we require two safeguards against a return of the evils of the old order; there must be a strict supervision of all banking and credits and investments; there must be an end to speculation with other people's money, and there must be provision for an adequate but sound currency.

"These are the lines of attack. I shall presently urge upon a new congress in special session detailed measures for their fulfillment, and I shall seek the immediate assistance of the several states.

"Through this program of action we address ourselves to putting our own national house in order and making income balance outgo. Our international trade relations, though vastly important, are in point of time and necessity secondary to the establishment of a sound national economy. I favor as a practical policy the putting the first things first. I shall spare no effort to restore world trade by international economic readjustment, but the emergency at home can not wait on that accomplishment.

"The basic thought that guides these specific means of national recovery is not narrowly nationalistic. It is the insistence, as a first consideration, under the interdependence of the various elements in and parts of the United States—a recognition of the old and permanently important manifestation of the American spirit of the pioneer. It is the way to recovery. It is the immediate way. It is the strongest assurance that the recovery will endure.

"In the field of world policy I would dedicate this nation to the policy of the good neighbor—the neighbor who resolutely respects himself and because he does so, respects the rights of others—the neighbor who respects his obligations and respects the sanctity of his agreements in and with a world of neighbors.

"If I read the temper of our people correctly, we now realize as we have never realized before our interdependence on aech other; that we can not merely take, but we must give as well, that if we are to go forward we must move as a trained and loyal army willing to sacrifice for the good of a common discipline, because without such discipline no progress is made, no leadership becomes effective. We are, I know, ready and willing to submit our lives and property to such discipline because it makes possible a leadership which aims at a larger good. This I propose to offer, pledging that the larger purposes will bind upon us all as a sacred obligation with a unity of duty hitherto evoked only in time of armed strife.

Assumes Burden.

"With this pledge taken, I assume unhesitatingly the leadership of this great army of our people dedicated to a disciplined attack upon our common problems.

"Action in this image and to this end is feasible under the form of government which we have inherited from our ancestors. Our constitution is so simple and practical that it is possible always to meet extraordinary needs by changes in emphasis and arrangement without loss of essential form. That is why our constitutional system has proved itself the most superbly enduring political mechanism the modern world has produced. It has met every stress of vast expansion of territory, of foreign wars, of bitter internal strife, of world relations.

"It is to be hoped that the normal balance of executive and legislative authority may be wholly adequate to meet the unprecedented task before us. But it may be that an unprecedented demand and need for undelayed action may call for temporary departure from that normal balance of public procedure.

"I am prepared under my constitutional duty to recommend the measures that a stricken nation in the midst of a stricken world may require. These measures, or such other measures as the congress may build out of its experience and wisdom, I shall seek, within my constitutional authority to bring to speedy adoption.

"But in the event that the congress shall fail to take one of these two courses, and in the event that the national emergency is still critical, I shall not evade the clear course of duty that will then confront me. I shall ask the congress for the one remaining instrument to meet the crisis —broad executive power to wage a war against the emergency, as great as the power that would be given me if we were infact invaded by a foreign foe.

"For the trust reposed in me I will return the courage and the devotion that befit the time. I can do no less.

"We face the arduous days that lie before us in the warm courage of national unity; with the clear consciousness of seeking old and precious moral values; with the clean satisfaction that comes from the stern performance of duty by old and young alike. We aim at the assurance of a rounded and permanent national life.

"We do not distruct the future of essential democracy. The people of the United States have not failed. In their need they have registered a mandate that they want direct vigorous action. They have made me the present instrument of their wishes. In the spirit of the gift I take it.

"In this dedication of a nation we humbly ask the blessing of God. May He protect each and every one of us. May He guide me in the days to come."

Dr. J. W. Largent and Mrs. Ed Largent left McKinney Saturday morning for Tyler, where they were called by the illness of the latter's little 4-year-old grandson, Richard Edward Allen, who has pneumonia. The little patient is also a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Allen of this city.

SERIES OF MEETINGS AT FIRST BAPTIST

The Women's Missionary union of the First Baptist church are observing a week of prayer this week with services each afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Frank E. Wilcox, president of the W. M. U., is presiding over each program, while members of the various circles are leaders.

On Monday afternoon the union was delighted to have a guest speaker, Mrs. E. L. Burton, from the First Methodist church. Mrs. Burton is one of the city's most active religious leaders and is always prepared to bring a splendid talk when called upon. Monday afternoon she spoke on "Home Missions," in keeping with the week's program, and delighted her audience as she spoke. Also as a feature of the afternoon, a chorus of colored girls and boys from the colored school here, under the direction of Peggy Shelby, favored the ladies present with several selections which were highly enjoyed. Mrs. A. G. Speck was the leader for the afternoon, being responsible for the splendid program.

Mrs. R. C. Heathington was scheduled to bring Tuesday afternoon's program, but due to the meeting held at Lebanon, the program was not given.

Leaders for the remainder of the week will be Mrs. Olin Dearing this (Wednesday) afternoon; Mrs. A. A. Shumake, Thursday afternoon and the young folks from the R. A., G. A., Y. W. A. and Sunbeam organizations under the direction of Mrs. John Green, leader, will have Friday afternoon's program.

All ladies of the church are cordially invited to attend any and all of these services.

NEPHEW OF MRS. MATE BARNETT PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Mate Barnett has been notified of the death of her nephew, Paul Barnett, which occurred at his home in Wichita Falls. The deceased was county auditor at Wichita Falls, being a prominent citizen of that city. He died Thursday evening at his home after an extended illness, funeral services being held at the Highland Heights Christian church with Rev. Patrick Henry of Fort Worth and Rev. J. E. Montgomery, pastor, officiating. Burial was made in Riverside in charge of the Faith Masonic lodge. He is survived by wife and two sons, Paul, Jr., and James. Several brothers and sisters also survive.

During the funeral hour the courthouse offices in Wichita Falls were closed out of respect for Mr. Barnett, who had served as county auditor for four years. He was a leader in civic movements and also associated with Boy Scout work.

PRESSES RUNNING ON THREE SHIFTS, PRINTING MONEY

CURRENCY FROM $1 TO $50,000 STACKED ON DESKS

Washington, March 9.—Lights blaze from the bureau of engraving and printing these nights as three shifts of workers hasten the printing of crisp federal reserve notes.

The order for the speed up came from the federal reserve board March 4, bureau officials say. Printing began immediately on the higher denominations of from $500 to $10,000 bills. Now the machines busily are turning out denominations from $5 to $50.

The bureau has been working its regular one-shift schedule previous to the March 4 order.

Now high stacks of bills pile up on the workers' desks as the constant flow of visitors, more than ever curious about the plant, file across the spectators' ramps hung above the working floors.

Shelves rise to the ceiling holding every denomination from the plebian $1 to the aristocratic $10,000 variety—shelves these days that are rapidly filling up their stretches as the hum of the printing presses fills the building twenty-four hours of the day.

GRAND MASTER WALLACE HUGHSTON WILL SPEAK OVER RADIO AT 6:45 O'CLOCK SATURDAY EVE, MARCH 11

WILL COUNSEL COOLHEADEDNESS IN FINANCIAL EMERGENCY AND BACKING UP PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN HIS LEADERSHIP TO BRING BACK NORMAL BUSINESS CONDITION AGAIN.

Notifications have been sent broadcast over the state to the deputy district Grand Masters and the 1,100 Masonic lodges of Texas, including upwards of 130,000 members, informing them that Judge Wallace Hughston of McKinney, Grand Master of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Texas, will go on the air at 6:45 o'clock Saturday evening, March 11, over the WFAA radio station, Dallas News and Evening Journal, in a message of faith, confidence and patience in the present emergency in the economic life of the nation.

This is strictly in keeping with the traditional patriotism and good citizenship of the membership of this ancient fraternity in the Lone Star state for nearly a century.

The fraternity throws in all the power and influence it has as individuals with all other good citizens in whole-heartedly co-operating with them in backing up President Franklin D. Roosevelt's lead for corrective measures and maintaining the stability of our banking institutions and the morale of the people of the nation as a whole in every line of endeavor.

Judge Hughston participated in the annual conference of the Grand Masters of the forty-eight states of the union recently held on Washington's birthday in the national capital at Washington, D. C., and was honored by the body with unanimous election as its chairman for the year, 1933.

His lead in contributing to the restoration of business and unemployment condition to a state of normalcy again it is expected to be followed by the Grand Masters of all the other forty-seven grand lodges of the country.

Judge Hughston says that it is the duty of every loyal American man or woman to sit steady in the boat during the present exigency and thereby facilitate the return and the restoration of prosperity to our country again and in so doing lead the way of all other countries of the world in likewise stabilizing themselves and overcoming the era of depression that is already manifesting definite indications of lifting.

COUSIN OF EDITOR J. FRANK SMITH DIES SUDDENLY

Editor J. Frank Smith of the McKinney Examiner received a message this (Wednesday) morning announcing the sudden death of his cousin, Mrs. Albert G. Eakins, at her home in Shawnee, Okla., at 6:30 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning, following a brief illness.

The body will be brought to McKinney for interment, arriving over the 9:20 T & N. O. train Friday morning, March 10.

The body will be conveyed to the home of Mrs. John Church, on North Church street, a close friend of the deceased, where funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock that same afternoon conducted by Dr. Claude M. Simpson, pastor of the First Methodist church, of which denomination she was a devoted member. Interment will follow in Pecan Grove cemetery.

The deceased was born in Alabama, but moved to McKinney with her parents when a little girl, in which city she was reared to young womanhood. She was married to A. G. Eakins in this city, the ceremony taking place in the old Cumberland Presbyterian church. Her husband was for many years manager of the cotton oil mill here. They moved away from McKinney thirty years ago.

Surviving are her husband, Albert G. Eakins; one daughter, Mrs. Walter Templeton, of Shawnee, and other relatives, among them being Editor Smith of this city. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ed Battle, pioneer McKinney residents, who are buried in Pecan Grove cemetery. She also has a son buried on the family lot there. The deceased was a sister of C. S. Battle, a well-known wholesale and retail grocery merchant in this city for many years. She was also a sister of Mrs. Samuel F. King, now of El Paso, but formerly of this city. Mrs. Eakins had a host of friends in this city and community.

ALLEN GROCERY AND MARKET RE-ARRANGED

The Allen Grocery and Market, located on South Tennessee street, has been rearranged on the interior, making a very neat and attractive appearance. Several new stands or tiers of shelves have been installed, where the foods, offered by this big McKinney grocery store, are displayed most effectively. Much of the space in the store is utilized in this way, leaving plenty of standing room for their customers. All patrons of the store are paying many compliments on the convenient arrangement, as they can more quickly and satisfactorily select their purchases.

Besides offering only first-class foods, several courteous and capable young men are ever alert to your needs and give prompt and courteous service. The personnel of this place of business includes Alfred and Tom Allen, Earl Ragsdale, Weldon Wheatley and Jimmie Johnson.

In buying your grocery supplies, visit this big store where the freshest products may be secured at very reasonable prices, together with quick service from the young men employed by the firm.

MAKING PLANS FOR COURT HONOR MEET IN APRIL

Scout Executive W. G Echols of Dallas visited McKinney and other Collin county troops Tuesday. While passing through McKinney, he stopped at our office for a brief chat with these editors. He announces that there will be a Court of Honor and scoutmasters' meeting in McKinney some time in April. Scouts will be here from all parts of the county.

Mr. Echols informs these editors that a troop was recently organized at Anna, which is already moving forward, to the satisfaction of all those interested in its welfare, under the direction of Scoutmaster Morrison. The Anna troop committee is composed of S. J. Smith, Sam Hagin and C. L. Nixon.

It is interesting to note that the Anna troop is starting out by helping to organize another new troop, the members being engaged in helping to form a new troop at Weston.

Special Trains To Carry Visitors To Fat Stock Show

Fort Worth, Texas, March 8.—Indications are that there will be at least five special trains operated into Fort Worth during the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show which will open Friday night, March 10. Officials of the Chamber of Commerce and the exposition have received information that Wichita Falls, Eastland county, Bosque county, Cooke county and several other counties and cities are planning to operate the special, railroads having granted special rates. The low rates will apply not only for passengers on the special trains but there also will be other low rates for regular trains. Bus lines, too, have joined in the movement to lower the roundtrip rate to Fort Worth during the exposition.

Preparations of the arena for the opening of the world championship rodeo is well under way. Cowboys and cowgirls are beginning to arrive.

A number of the champions of the rodeo will be back to defend their titles. This will include Chester Byers, world champion roper; Tad Lucas, world champion all-around cowgirl and world champion cowgirl trick rider, and Reine Shelton, champion cowgirl bronc rider.

Entertainment plans are being advanced for newspaper day at the show, to be held Saturday, March 11. Several hundred writers are expected to be here that day and will be guests of the exposition.

Arrangements are practically complete for the round-up parade which will be held in the business district Friday afternoon, March 10, to celebrate the opening of the exposition. City, county and show officials will head the parade. The list of bands entered has been increased to five.

Automobile dealers have been notified by manufacturers that the latest models have been shipped in time for arrival for the spectacular automobile show.

Silver Cloud, the educated horse, will make his appearance here for the first time on the opening night of the show. He will be seen every matinee and night during the nineteen coliseum performances.

BURIAL HERE DR. H. P. MARKHAM OF OKLAHOMA

Remains of Dr. Hugh P. Markham, about 67, were brought to McKinney for interment at 10:30 o'clock last Wednesday in the old family burying lot in Pecan Grove cemetery where they were laid to rest in the presence of relatives and a number of old friends of the family from Sherman and McKinney. The Sam J. Massie Funeral home was in charge of the burial here. Dr. Claude M. Simpson, pastor of the First Methodist church, conducted brief services at the graveside.

The active pallbearers were Dr. J. C. Erwin, Robert D. Erwin, Clint Thompson, Dr. Dick F. Houston, Henry W. Warden and Walter B. Wilson. Many beautiful floral offerings covered the casket and the new-made grave.

The deceased was born at Farmersville, being the son of the late Dr. H. M. Markham and his first wife. He received his schooling at McKinney where the family moved about 1877 from Farmersville. He then attended the Louisville Medical college, at Louisville, Ky., and Tulane university at New Orleans and began the active practice of medicine at McKinney. He later changed his location to Celina and then moved to Paul's Valley, Okla., where he practiced for more than thirty years and where he died at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 7, after a period of ill health lasting nearly two years.

The deceased is survived by one son, Hugh, Jr., of Tulsa, Okla., and a half brother, P. R. (Read) Markham, president of the Merchants & Planters' bank, Sherman, Texas. His wife, who was formerly Miss Fannie Callahan of Cottage Hill, preceded him to the grave a number of years ago.

The father of the deceased, Dr. H. M. Markham, was a prominent pioneer, practicing physician at Farmersville and at McKinney and also for a time was vice president and director of the Collin County National bank, and at one time was a member of the dry goods firm of Board & Markham, his partner being the late Capt. R. Milt Board. He was a very successful business man and accumulated considerable property. Dr. H. M. Markham and his second wife are both buried in Pecan Grove cemetery this city. He died in 1891. His widow and son, Read Markham, moved to Sherman more than thirty years ago, where the son stands high in financial, business and other circles of that city.

DEMONSTRATION AGENT TALKS TO ROTARIANS

County Home demonstration work was featured by a Rotary program of the local club at the noon Friday weekly luncheon occasion held at the First Methodist church, when Miss Helen Dunlap, the efficient county agent, was the speaker.

Pres. Horace H. Neilson was in the chair as usual and W. Hammond Moore led in singing of several lively Rotary songs with Mrs. Gibson Caldwell at the piano.

T. E. Craig, chairman of the program committee for the day, being absent from the city, County Farm Agent Jack P. McCullough substituted for him and presented the speaker.

Miss Dunlap stated that in one sense results of her work might seem to come along rather slowly due to the large number of farm women and girls in the county among whom her work is accomplished. Time is needed to interest, educate and develop them along the lines contemplated by extension work.

Her work is accomplished through groups, called clubs. She has twenty-two of these clubs among the farm women and thirteen among the farm girls, known as 4-H girls' clubs.

The work is done along systematized, definite lines. For instance, in canning, the county agent instructs and advises with her club women and girls, how to can their products in the right proportion so that the family food may be in a balanced way as to food in the way of meats, leafy vegetables, tomatoes, fruits and berries.

She estimtes that her clubs canned a quantity in 1932 of a value of $23,000. In fact, she has listed that much and is of the opinion that almost as much more canning actually resulted.

She endeavors to get her club women and girls to plant their gardens in the right proportion so as to afford the food needed during the winter and early spring months when fresh vegetables are not to be had. She also coaches in the art of cutting and making their own clothing. A very marked degree of improvement is noted along this line, not only among her club women and girls but also among rural women in general as those who are not club members learn from the club women and in that way the home demonstration work is intensified and enhanced in practically every community and part of the county.

The women and girls are also instructed in the work of making their homes more attractive, and comfortable as well as their kitchens.

They are instructed in planting trees and shrubbery, also in recreation, so as to afford more attractive home and rural surroundings for the young people as well as the old.

Miss Dunlap is kept qiute busy trying to visit her clubs every month. She visits her girls' clubs every month, and her women's clubs four months out of the year.

She recognizes that as the county has about 6,000 farm families that it is necessary to extend her work beyond that actually done with her orgnized clubs.

She is now giving American cheese making demonstrations. She is giving these demonstrations in communities that have no clubs. Last year, she gave demonstrations in at least twenty new communities which have no clubs.

She finds farm women eager to engage in these extension activities and altogether her work, she feels, is greatly worthwhile to the homes of our county and are very interesting to her in her daily work.

A group of Social Workers of the First Methodist church served a splendid dinner under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jeff Smith.

BANK RESTRICTIONS ARE LOOSENED FOR URGENT NEEDS BY PRESIDENT

Grip Held On Gold Coin Of Nation; Supply Will Be Protected As Far As Possible From Exporters.

Washington, March 8.—Secretary Woodin said today that actual currency would be circulated in place of scrip or clearing house certificates under a plan now being formulated.

He did not disclose the plan under which currency would be used, but made it clear that a formal plan for scrip or other medium of exchange issue was being abandoned.

The secretary appeared highly optimistic of the outlook.

"We can see the light here," he said, with a smile on addressing newspaper men who surrounded him at his office in the treasury. "This thing isn't going to pieces."

Washington, March 7.—The nation's banks were put on a restricted operating basis Tuesday to allow transaction of the normal functions necessary to human existence as President Roosevelt and his cabinet devised a plan to be made effective after the holiday.

Conditional authority also was granted for state and local clearing house associations to issue certificates to be used as scrip during the period. This was made subject to substitution of a national scrip plan.

Keeping a close grip, meanwhile, on the nation's gold supply, President Roosevelt studied a system for complete opening in the near future of the strong banks of the country and a gradual extension of the plan to other institutions that prove their soundness.

Seek Relief for People.

Every emphasis was given in the day of bustling activity to making sure of relief for the people so far as protection of the gold supply from hoarders and foreign raiders would permit. Institutions were opened for payments with this broad order:

"Any national or state banking institution may exercise its usual banking functions to such extent as the situation shall permit and as shall be absolutely necessary to meet the needs of its community for food, medicine, other necessities of life, for the relief of distress, for the payment of usual salaries and wages, for necessary current expenditures, for the purpose of maintaining employment and for other similar essential purposes."

Remaining at his desk through the noon hour to eat his lunch, Mr. Roosevelt went into a two-hour conference with his cabinet at 2 o'clock. There was no statement and no hint that there would be one before he sends his message to congress Thursday noon.

Linked With Reorganization.

The president linked his discussions Tuesday closely with the government reorganization program by which he intends to balance the budget as a further bulwark to national credit.

The operation of the clearing house scrip plan is demanding almost all attention just now of the financial leaders busy at the capitol, and it is not believed full details of the emergency action Mr. Roosevelt will seek Thursday from congress have been worked out beyond the request for formal ratification of his moves and continued authority for them.

An order issued late in the day by Mr. Woodin authorizing federal reserve banks to conduct their normal operations as fiscal agents of the government on federal obligations was interpreted variously.

It was regarded by some as a move to assure the regular government refinancing on the quarterly period of March 15. Others interpreted the step as a move for larger issues of reserve notes in the place of the clearing house certificates now under contemplation as an emergency medium of exchange.

Scrip Plan Difficulties.

The temporary scrip plan was the subject of a lengthy conference late in the day at the White House. Secretary Woodin went into this parley with Arthur Ballantine, the retiring undersecretary of the treasury, and George W. Davidson, New York banker and author of the clearing house certificate system employed in the 1907 panic.

Difficulties in working out the system readily were admitted, but the order for state and local operations of it still stood at night. Leaving the White House, Mr. Woodin, who has been cheerful throughout his long hours, simply said. "I am very happy. Everything is fine."

BROTHER MRS. R. W. DURHAM PASSES AWAY

J. H. Templeman, 81 years, 2 months and 11 days, died at his home in Valdasta Tuesday, March 7, after a two weeks' illness. He had enjoyed fine health for one of his advanced years, until about two weeks ago when he fell from a wagon, suffering injuries from which he never recovered. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son as follows: Mrs. Roscoe Greer, Valdasta; Mrs. Arthur Hope of McKinney and Clyde Templeman of Dallas. A sister, Mrs. R. W. Durham, of this city and brother, Tom Templeman, of Petrolia, Texas, also survive.

The deceased was born in South Carolina, but came to Texas forty-three years ago, settling in the Valdasta community where he had since resided. He was a member of the Baptist church, and was a highly-respected and beloved citizen of that section.

Funeral services were conducted at the Valdasta Baptist church last Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, by Rev. John Hilger of Greenville, assisted by Rev. Mr. Greer of McKinney. Interment followed in the Stoney Point cemetery under the direction of the Lamm & Wilson Funeral home of Blue Ridge.

THE DAWN OF THE FINAL WEEK. The Dash to the wire! The beginning of the end! Two days more the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette's famed Circulation and Prize Campaign comes to a dramatic close. All North Texas is waiting, wondering! Who will win the big automobile is on every lip. The city is seething with bustle and preparation for the final days. Excitement is keyed up to the highest pitch. Riding on the crest of the wave of enthusiasm are ambitious contestants from every section of the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette's wide territory, exerting vigorous efforts to capture the beautiful prizes that will be awarded a few days hence. In both city and country is gathering the storm of votes that will decend upon the campaign office in the last few days.

Never was such a glittering array of prizes presented—never was such a battle waged to win. On this page appears the final scale schedule effective at 8:30 a. m., Monday until end of campaign. All subscriptions turned in during the final week will receive votes according to this scale. The schedule was complied in accordance with the original announcement of the campaign which appeared in the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette. It is positively and conclusive, and will not change.

The race is to close to bank on any possibilities, and there are too many persons interested in every candidate to insure anyone an easy victory. Over confidence loses battles. Relaxation at this stage of the campaign is suicide to success. Determination to win coupled with relentless activity in vote gathering will make a winner out of a contestant. This is not the time to hesitate. What is intended to be done must be done NOW. to temperize is to let some other candidate forge ahead and claim the prize that would have been yours.

In conclusion, let it be stated, that the time of all times has its conception, at 8 o'clock Monday when the FINAL schedule became effective. The date of the close is March 11th. at 9 P. M., looms big on the horizon and every tick of the clock brings it closer. Read again the new vote schedule—victory is there.

This is your eleventh hour to make a whirlwind dash to the finish—a chance to get your share of the $2,000 wotrh of happiness and riches the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette will spread broadcast with a lavish hand in a few days.

POSITIVELY NO NEW CONTESTANTS WILL BE ALLOWED TO ENTER. THE NAMES OF THE AUTOMOBILE AND CASH PRIZE WINNERS ARE ON THIS PAGE. WHO THEY ARE ONLY VOTES WILL DECIDE.

THE LAST STANDING

The standing as published below includes all votes used from the candidates reserve list as well as all free vote coupons sent in. Candidates should bring in their reserve ballots in order to check up with the campaign department on the number of votes used in the published list. The names will appear every day this week, but will remain at a standstill without change until the official judges announces the winners.

FINAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

As a matter of precaution to guard possibility of loss to candidates, through misunderstanding through these last days of the campaign, herewith are appended the final rules and instructions that must be observed. All candidates, particularly those residing in outside towns should read and weigh every line carefully.

1. The campaign will end promptly at 9 o'clock p. m., Saturday, March 11th, 1933.

2. All subscriptions, reserve ballots and remittances must be in the campaign office, by that hour. The doors of the campaign office will close and be locked promptly on the stroke of the hour, but all contestants who are inside at that time will be waited upon, and given ample opportunity to turn in subscriptions and votes, even though several hours are consumed. No one, however, will be allowed to enter the campaign office after 9 p. m. until the official judges have taken charge of the ballot box.

3. If you live outside of McKinney and intend to mail your votes and final remittance, take precaution to find out exactly what time your local postoffice closes, and concerning train service to McKinney. Positively no remittance received by mail later than 9 p. m. Saturday, March 11th, 1933, will be included. All remittances sent out after Thursday should come special delivery in order to insure their reaching us in time.

4. All leters containing votes and remittances should be addressed plainly: Campaign Manager, the McKinney, Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette, McKinney, Texas. The McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette will not be responsible for remittances sent by mail which do not arrive in time.

5. Examine your vote ballots carefully and see that the proper number of votes have been given. If there is any error, notify the campaign managr in writing before Thursday, March 9th, 1933. Neither McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette or the Campaign Manager will be responsible for any clerical errors unless notice is given before the final county commences.

6. Be sure your name is on every ballot before turning in.

7. UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES WILL VOTES BE TRANSFERRED FROM ONE CANDIDATE TO ANOTHER. THIS IS AN ABSOLUTE RULE AND WILL BE STRICTLY ENFORCED.

8. Second payments must be marked on the subscription stub, also the amount of the first payment, in order that the proper difference may be credited. Neither the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette nor Campaign Manager will be responsible for errors in second payment credits unless notice is given before the final count commences. The decision of the judges on the votes as issued will be final and conclusive.

9. Subscriptions this week will receive votes according to the Final Vote Schedule. It is final and conclusive and will never be changed. The scale on the back of the receipt books is now void. Note the tremendous number of votes given this week on 5 years (Daily) subscriptions. The number is 680,000 by mail and 725,000 by Carrier.

19. Contestants may send in their reserve votes any time now, as the ballot box has been locked and sealed and will not again be opened until the official judges break the seal and begin the final count. The count as it appears in the Daily Courier-Gazette today PLUS the ballots you have in your possession less the amount published from reserve votes is your total vote. If this count is not correct, notify the campaign manager at once in writing. No change will be made after Thursday.

11. All votes now in the possession of contestants that have not yet been voted must be in the ballot box or in the possession of the contestant by 9 p. m., Saturday March 11th. Before they count to your credit. The same applies to all votes you receive this week under the final vote schedule, neither the McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette nor the campaign manager will be responsible for the counting of your votes unless you send them in.

12. When sending in your votes do not roll or fold them, but keep them absolutely flat, using a little piece of cardboard. Be sure to use special delivery stamps on all letters containing votes or subscriptions.

13. Positively no personal checks will be accepted in payments for subscriptions unless certified. All remittances after Wednesday must be in express or postal money orders, certified checks or the actual cash. If you have any checks given to you by subscribers, go to the bank and have them certified before turning them in.

14. Positively no subscriptions will be accepted without the money, and no money will be accepted without the subscriptions. No money will be refunded. No prize can be exchanged for cash commission.

15. Owing to the uncertainty of mails reaching contestants in time to be returned for the final count, the campaign manager will not, after Wednesday, return any ballots that are issued on subscriptions received by mail. Prompt acknowledgment, however, will be made of all remittances received and the votes will be deposited in the locked and sealed ballot box.

16. Every contestant is urged to be present Saturday, march 11 although it is not required. The count will begin as soon as possible after the last ballot has been deposited in the ballot box, and the result should be known in time for announcement at the midnight show at the Ritz Theater, Saturday night. The Chevrolet will be turned over to the new owner the minute the judges announces the names. Checks for cash prizes and cash commissions for qualified non-prize winners will be mailed out immediately.

17. No new entries will be received this week. The names of the automobile winner is on this page. Who they are, only the final votes will tell.

18. Every contestant is advised to do his or her best this week. Victory is in the final vote schedule. Work, [illegible]

THE FINAL VOTE SCHEDULE

Final vote credit shows the voting value of subscription payments during the last week of the campaign. This scredule is positive and final and it is in accordance with original announcement of the campaign, the regular and extra vote credits added together, extra votes at the rate of 10 per cent less than the 100,000 extra vote offer.

The final vote credit schedule as shown in the only one that counts now. To figure a second payment during the last week deduct the amount given on the first payment from the total subscription using the final vote screduie as a basis as listed below.

Note the vote value of a 5-year subscriptions.

With these well known and highly respected citizens and business men of Collin county in charge to supervise the tabulation of vote totals, every candidate is assured fair and square treatment. These judges are absolutely impartial. They have no interest whatever in the standing or welfare of any candidate. The winners will be decided entirely on the number of votes they have obtained, and the count will be conducted in a methodical and strictly business-like manner. The McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat feels it is fortunate in securing the unselfish services of these reliable gentlemen.

THE BALLOT BOX

The ballot box has been locked and sealed and the keys placed in the Daily Courier-Gazette vault, where they will remain until the official judges open the box and make their final count. The standings of every candidate as they appear today include every vote coupon, and every subscription ballot that has been used for publication up to 6 p. m., Saturday. The votes as they appear today will remain unchanged until the final count by the official judges except in case of correction of errors which may exist. If the count today is not absolutely correct, according to your own figures, notify the campaign manager at once in writing in order that the correction can be made. No correction will be made after Thursday. Reserve votes held by contestants, and votes they will receive in final schedule may be deposited at any time up to 9 p. m. Saturday, March 11th, or later providing the contestant is in the campaign office by that hour. All such votes placed in the ballot box from now on will not be credited in the published standing until the final count.

There is no advantage in holding back votes on subscriptions any longer.

Lebanon Hostess To Collin County Council Parent-Teacher Assn.

The Collin County Council of Parent-Teacher associations met at Lebanon on March 4 at the Baptist church. The weather had been prohibitive on the January date so the board of managers, with the approval of the hostess association, set this date.

Mrs. Frank Harrington, president of the council, called the meeting to order and asked that the audience, in the absence of Mr. Blackburn, the regular song leader, rise and sing America. Rev. L. Grumbles then pronounced the invocation, asking divine blessing and guidance.

C. A. Covington welcomed the visitors most cordially to Lebanon, commended them upon their interest in school matters, and pledged to hearty cooperation of this community in everything that would promote their welfare. Mrs. Harrington responded most graciously to Mr. Covington's address, thanking him for his community hospitality and assuring him of the very high regard the whole county has for Lebanon.

A brief business session followed these addresses. Reports were heard from the vice-presdent an from the president and secretary, each woman showing by her report that she had not been idle.

Mrs. Harrington then presented Dow Hendricks from McKinney who gave a most timely and valuable talk on the financial side of our schools. Mr. Hendricks is county superintendent and had his subject at his finger tips and held the careful attention of his audience as he discussed the sources of school money and explained the various classes of state aid. Mr. Hendricks is not inclined toward pessimism but he acknowledged frankly that he was worried about next year's school money since the homestead amendment will reduce the per capita money between eight and nine dollars. He urged the various organizations to study the movements of the legislature and to write the representatives recommending that he stand firmly by such legislation as will benefit the schools. The assembly deeply appreciated Mr. Hendrick's address.

Before the lunch hour was announced, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gordon and Mrs. Sue Gordon delighted the crowd with a beautiful trio responing generously with an encore.

Lunch was served in the school building, long tables holding tempting meats, sandwiches, salads, cakes and pies. Hot coffee was served from a side table and each visitor thorougaly enjoyed the delicious food and the graciousness with which it was dispensed.

The afternoon session opened with singing "The Eyes of Texas" led by Miss Blackburn, substituting for Mrs. Claud Clark. Mrs. Lee Gordon gave a pretty piono solo. Miss Vera Bryan followed with a reading. The personal attractiveness of this young lady and the ability with which she read a very difficult and highly dramatic selection made this number a treat indeed.

Mrs. Harrington went on immediately into another business session in which each local president reported for her unit. Some splendid reports were heard. In the count for the traveling library, Bush, the youngest organization in the country [illegible] and was given long and hearty applause. This association had brought along nineteen members as a concrete proof of their interest and alertness. Then in the count for the loving cup Bush won after a breathless count and recount with Frisco, who had sixteen members present. Frisco's president presented the cup to Bush's president in a few good-natured remarks.

The nominating commitee brought its report as follows:

Mrs. J. E. Blackburn, Farmersville, president.

Mrs. C. S. James, Lebanon, vice-president at large.

Mrs. Bartow Chapman, Precinct 1.

Mrs. Barney Welch, Precinct 2.
Mrs. J. D. Burt, Precinct 3.
Mrs. C. A. Harrington, Precinct 4.

Mrs. M. K. Millican, Farmersville, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Clarence Dowdy, McKinney, press reporter.

The report was accepted and the committee congratulated upon its excellent choice.

The business having been disposed of Mrs. Harrington introduced the president of second district, Mrs. R. M. Carter, Sherman, who gave a most enlightening address on "Changed By-Laws." Her remarks were very deeply appreciated by each local unit and by the council as an organization. Any gathering is brightened by Mrs. Carter's charming presence and the council was both pleased and flattered to have her a guest.

Just before adjournment the new officers were asked to come forward and in her earnest and straight-forward manner Mrs. Carter installed them. The council then adjourned to meet again in October, the place of meeting to be announced later.

DR. SISTRUNK'S SUDDEN DEATH AT NEW ORLEANS

Dr. Walter E. Sistrunk, professor of surgery at Baylor University of Medicine, Dallas, and a nationally-known surgeon, formerly with the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., and later of Dallas died suddenly Monday night in New Orleans. He had flown there from Dallas Sunday in good health and bound for Atlanta, to address a medical meeting.

Dr. Sistrunk was born in Tallahassee, Ala., the son of Walter and Mary Ware Sistrunk. He was graduated from Tulane university medical school in 1908. He was an interne at Charity hospital, New Orleans, and practiced in that city and in Lake Charles, La., 1909-12. From 1912 until he came to Dallas in 1929 he was with the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., becoming chief of staff there. He also was an associate professor of surgery at the Mayo foundation medical school, University of Minnesota.

The deceased was quite well known to several McKinney physicians, who were shocked at the news of his sudden death.

A. C. Bullock, well-known McKinney paint contractor, is up from a week's illness, to the delight of his many friends.

A GREAT MESSAGE

If faulty elimination is dragging you down—robbing you of the joy of living, and you have lost that old-time pep, you are merely hungry—not for the rich, attractively-arranged foods of our present-day diet, but for Potassium, Sodium. Magnesium, Calcium, etc. Secure them from Crazy Water Crystals. Try a glass of fresh water in which a scant teaspoonful of Crazy Water Crystals has been dissolved and replenish your system with those minerals in which it is lacking. Thousands who have suffered from rheumatism, colitis, acidosis, neuritis, auto intoxication, nervous ailments, liver and bladder disorders, and others brought about by faulty elimination, have been relieved by drinking Crazy Water Crystals—a natural product—pure as sunshine. You too can drink your way to health simply by adding Crazy Water Crystals to your drinking water. They are easy to mix, pleasant to taste, and give proper elimination without irritation. FIRST BAPTIST OBSERVES "GO TO CHURCH" MONTH

Since March has been adopted by all Baptist people in America as "go to church" month, with the slogan "March to Church during March," special efforts are being made by the pastor and officers of the First Baptist church to have large attendances at all services.

A goal of 500 in the Sunday school has been set by Supt. C. M. Bryan while George Howerton, general director of the B. T. S., is striving for 200 in attendance. The pastor, Dr. J. H. Cozad, sets his goal to have every member of the church in the preaching service. All services will be helpful and it is hoped the people, members of the church and others interested may make plans to attend.

The schedule for Sunday will include regular preaching service with the pastor bringing a message Sunday morning from the text "Christ suffered for us, leaving us an example." This will be followed by communion service.

At the evening hour the Gardener union (Junior) of the B. T. S. will give an introductory program to the service. Miss Katherine Key is leader of this union while Miss Ruth Ray and Mrs. H. S. Ware are sponsors. The pastor will bring another message from the subject "What Should Christian People Do About the Prohibition Question?"

On Monday evening at 7:30 the Board of Deacons will hold their regular monthly meeting.

Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock the teachers and officers of the Sunday school will have their meeting, followed by regular prayer services at 8 o'clock and the monthly business meeting of the church. The pastor is elated with the interest and increase in attendance in these prayer services each Wednesday evening. Some inspirational messages are brought and these services are proving to be both interesting and uplifting.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of thanking every one for so many kind deeds of helpfulness and sympathy to us during the long illness and after the death of our dear husband and father. May God bless and richly reward each of you is our prayer.

BROTHER OF MRS. AUBREY HAMILTON DIES IN OKLA.

Mrs. Aubrey Hamilton recently returned from Tipton, Okla., where she was called on the sad mission to attend the funeral of her brother, Henry Taylor. Mr. Taylor passed away at the Veterans' hospital at Muskogee, where he had been a patient for some time. The past few weeks of his illness were critical.

Lengthy write-ups appeared in the Tipton Tribune and Frederick Leader, Oklahoma publications.

We reproduce the write-up from the Tipton Tribune as follows:

"A huge crowd of people from Frederick and Tipton and surrounding communities gathered in the First Baptist church at Tipton Sunday afternoon to pay funeral tribute to H. W. Taylor who passed away Thursday in the Veterans' hospital at Muskogee. Mr. Taylor had lived at Frederick for more than a year. Prior to that time he had made his home here.

"Members of the John S. Kerr post, American legion, joined in the service.

"The service opened with a song, after which prayer was offered by Rev. Nicholson. Rev. Jones read a scriptural selection. A quartet composed of H. I. Goodwin, Mrs. F. L. Choate, Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. J. T. Jones sang.

Rev. Jones preached the funeral sermon and Rev. Nicholson made a few remarks. The entire service was an eulogy of the life in whose honor it was held, recalling not only his civic activity but his participation in the World war, during which time he served twenty-three months overseas.

Native of Texas.

"H. W. Taylor was born September 10, 1899, at Rockwall, Texas, and passed away Thursday at Muskogee. In addition to serving in ranks of honorary and active pall bearers, members of the John S. Kerr post, American legion, acted as an honor escort. C. C. Moore, Roy L. Moss and R. C. Howell were flag bearers. Flower girls were Misses Imogene Helf, Billie Sue Cook, Merene Purdy, Wanda Whitaker, Lorene Purdy and Ruth Sanford.

"Interment was made in the Frederick cemetery, with a large funeral party accompanying the body from Tipton for burial. Mr. Taylor was active in the Kerr post and legion affairs generally for several years. He had served as vice commander for the post from Tipton.

INTERESTING MEETING OF GARDEN CLUB

By MISS FRANCES FOSTER.

Mrs. H. A. Finch, Sr., president called the members of the McKinney Garden club to order at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, for a most entertaining and enthusiastic program.

On this occasion the club was honored with two distinguished guests, Mrs. Henry B. Trigg of Fort Worth, president of the Texas Federation of Garden clubs, and Mrs. H. B. Grace of Fort Worth, national chairman of Junior Garden clubs, who brought some valuable talks before the local club.

A brief business session was presided over by Mrs. Finch, during which Mrs. Walter Wiley, the secretary, recorded the minutes. Several splendid reports were given by committees who have been engaged in work for the Municipal Rose garden to be found in Finch park, also the flower bed of various flowers in the park, which is being put in fine condition after the recent freeze.

Mrs. Trigg Introduced.

Mrs. Finch, in a most gracious manner, introduced Mrs. Trigg as a speaker for the afternoon.

Mrs. Trigg possesses a very charming personality, and being well versed in her work with garden clubs, brought some important and valuable information to the club. She is enthusiastic in the beautification of highways, cities and rural districts, and brought some statistics in regard to this program.

Garden clubs have only been organized in the state for the past five years, but during that brief time have swept Texas like prairie fire. The Garden club originated in Dallas, where some of the finest plants and gardens can be found in the Southwest. At the present time there are 100 active clubs in the state with prospects of a rapid increase to that number. She praised the work being done in East Texas clubs, which were organized for the sole purpose of protecting the native holly and for rose culture.

Highways Beautiful.

In the beautification program highways are being beautified with native plantings, according to the section of the state. For instance around Fort Worth, much redbud has been planted on the highways, in the western section cactus adorns the highways, while in Bell county, young pecan trees have been planted. Mrs. Trigg also emphasized that planning is as important as the planting and gave some illustrations and examples to bring out this point. She closed by saying that through the efforts of all our citizens, Texas will grow into the glorious and beautiful state we hope it to be.

Mrs. Grace Speaks.

Mrs. Lovejoy introduced Mrs. Grace, who brought another splendid talk on the Junior Garden clubs, of which there are 172,000 children enrolled in this program of work. Through the efforts so Mrs. Grace, in co-operation with teachers and mothers, not only have school grounds been greatly beautified, but also vacant lots, and other unused tracts. She has adopted a plan of creative activity for the juniors, whereby they do the work in their program, rather than the adult, as is found in so many instances. In order to keep the child's interest in the work, contests in essay writing, debating and poem writing have proved most profitable, prizes being offered for the winners. Poster building is also very good in this work. She stressed the fact that the juniors should by all means be allowed to assist in the flower shows given by the senior club. She also urged the women to take interest in neighborhood groups of children as the Garden club needed councilors. The study of wild flowers, birds and trees would not only be of benefit to the children but would also be of help to the adult.

At the close of these two splendid talks the club gave a rising vote of thanks to the ladies. Many of the members asked various questions about flowers, gardens, etc.

National Flower Show.

Mrs. Trigg announced the National Flower show to be held in Miami, Fla., March 21, which is expected to be one of the greatest flower shows in the world. It is being sponsored by the United States in co-operation with Central and South America, which was established to bring these countries into closed relationship. Some of the prominent men of our country, including President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, are scheduled to be present and a very interesting program is being planned. Also special rates, via boat, railway and airplane will be given to delegates attending.

Sec. W. Hammond Moore of the Chamber of Commerce made a few remarks, stating that many of the women of the rural districts would appreciate very much receiving plants for their yards, and stated that a booth would be set aside in the coliseum at the coming Collin County Free fair, where the plants could be brought, to be given the women who desired them.

At the close of the meeting a plant exchange was had, at which W. H. Coffman of the Cottage nursery had furnished a variety of plants. He also sent some lovely potted plants which adorned the Chamber of Commerce au- [illegible]

John S. Bristol Visiting Old McKinney Home

John S. Bristol arrived in McKinney late Saturday night to join his wife on a few days' visit to his sister, Mrs. C. C. Cobb, and other relatives and friends. They made McKinney their home for a number of years, where Mr. Bristol was formerly in the grocery business. They are now residing at Plainview, Texas. Mrs. Bristol preceded her husband to McKinney on this visit by about a week. Mr. Bristol left Plainview at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and drove 400 miles to McKinney, arriving here about 8 o'clock that night.

They went up to Sherman today (Tuesday) to visit their son-in-law, Robert D. Nall, and baby. The mother of the babe, formerly Miss Dorothy Bristol, died July 13, last, when her babe was only one day old. Mr. and Mrs. Bristol have two children, Jack Bristol, and Mrs. Burns Noble, formerly Miss Bernadine, who also lives in Plainview. Their other son, R. E. Bristol, has been living at Lampasas for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Bristol are greatly enjoying their visit back among their old McKinney home friends and relatives. No finer people than the Bristols.

FINE RECORD M'KINNEY BOY AT BAYLOR U.

Chas. Bloss, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bloss of this city, a recent graduate of the McKinney High school, who is a sophomore student in Baylor university, at Waco, is in receipt of a letter from W. S. Allen, vice president and dean of that old church school. Mr. Allen's letter follows:

"Dear Mr. Bloss:

"I am writing to express appreciation for the excellent record you made during the fall quarter. Your grades were A, A and A. Baylor university is proud of you and the good work you have done. In behalf of the institution and personally I congratulate you and wish for you a gloriously successful winter quarter and a joyous new year.

"Signed,
"W. S. ALLEN,
Vice President and Dean."

Thus, McKinney friends and admirers of this native McKinney young man will see that he is keeping up the good work in his studies. Charles was the honor student of the spring graduating class of 1931.

Young Mr. Bloss was the principal entertainer at the Pre-Medical club at a special entertainment, being Dr. Burpstein in an interpretation of an old-time medicine show. The menu at this banquet and program follows:

"Dr. Burpstein's wild flower compound; Dr. Burpstein's animal and vegetable compound; Dr. Burpstein's frosted emulsion of wild oats; Dr. Burpstein's herb broth."

Other McKinney guests at this banquet and meeting were: Don Cozad, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Cozad and Kermit Pruett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pruett.

Mr. Bloss, in the role of Dr. Burpstein, was the principal entertainer and gave the address of welcome to the guests.

A write-up in the Waco paper of the banquet, in part, follows:

"Delta Sigma Pi, Baylor university's chapter of the international business fraternity, and the Pre-Medic club of Baylor both held their annual banquets Saturday night.

"Dr. V. G. Brindley of Temple delivered the address at the premedic banquet, the invocation being given by Dr. W. T. Gooch. The entire program was in the form of an old-time medicine show with Charles Bloss of McKinney, president of the club, as "medicine man." Favors for the women were corsages and death-head ash trays for the men. Place cards were tiny bottles of pink ammonia with the owner's name on the prescription label. Music was by Kenneth Easterwood's orchestra."

A MODERN M'KINNEY DAIRY RANKS HIGHEST

Attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of Apple's dairy owned by Sam Apple, phone 346 who has had more than twenty years experience in the retail dairy business here at McKinney.

He owns an exceptionally good herd of registered Jersey cattle. On a recent test, his herd was found to be free of tuberculosis or other diesease of any kind. In fact, in all of his twenty years experience he has never had a reactor or diseased cow found in his herd. He has always frequent tests, made never relaxing his caution.

He feeds a balanced ration and conducts his business along strictly sanitary lines that is not excelled if equalled by any other dairy in the state, large or small.

Inasmuch as about twenty-five per cent of tuberculosis among human beings is traceable to the use of milk from infected cows, it is, therefore, of utmost importance to dairy patrons to exercise caution in the quality of the milk that they use. Otherwise, you subject yourself and your family to dangers of tuberculosis and possibly other ailments.

Mr. Apple's herd of cows are beauties. You should personally visit his dairy plant to see the sanitary way in which it is conducted. You are invited to call just at any time.

It is not uncommon for visitors from other parts of the state and from other states to express astonishment at the absolute cleanliness of the Aple dairy. It is kept spotlessly clean and thoroughly disinfected. Plenty of light and sunshine in the milk house which is effectively screened.

Modern equipment may also be seen in this modern dairy for the handling of milk in the most approved sanitary and healthful way that medical and health authorities can prescribe and recommend.

Apple's Dairy believes in keeping the general public informed on its merit and superior products and in pursuance of this idea it never misses having its advertisement appear in this paper.

John D. Holt of Allen was badly hurt when the car in which he was returning to that little South Collin city, in company with several others, collided with a truck near Richardson. He was taken to Baylor hospital, but was brought to his home in Allen, and is reported as doing fine. No one else was hurt in the accident.

(March 2, 1908.)

The Rock Hill Public school building, a three-story frame structure, was destroyed by fire shortly after midnight this morning. The former Naugle homestead occupied by Will Krentz and family was also burned. Mrs. J. W. Borum is principal of the Rock Hill school, her assistant being her husband. One room on the second floor of the schoolhouse was used as a meeting place of the Farmers' Union. The Naugle residence was located a half mile southwest from the schoolhouse. It is supposed to have caught from a spark from the burning school building. There was no insurance on either building.

Miss Jo Davies, milliner for the big Matthews Bros. Dry Goods store, is at home from the northern markets, where she went to purchase spring stock.

EXTENSION OF BANK HOLIDAY SEEMS CERTAIN

GOVT. DECIDES ON CURRENCY INFLATION INSTEAD OF SCRIP

Washington, March 9.—The advisability of extending the present banking holiday was a strongly indicated subject of discussion at a conference of congressional leaders summoned to the White House Wednesday night by President Roosevelt.

Entering the executive mansion, Attorney General Cummings told newspaper men this was a question that had to be settled.

The chief executive was understood to have laid before the legislators, also the administration's tentative plan for a controlled expansion of the currency which there was every reason to believe had replaced the original idea of issuing clearing house certificates as a temporary medium of exchange.

The chief executive also was believed to have brought up the question of continuing the dictatorial, war-time power over the national currency which he assumed in his historic proclamation of last Sunday night. It previously had been said authoritatively that he contemplated a second proclamation before the four-day holiday expires Thursday night.
